Von Arnim Captured; Cap Bon Encircled

Churchill, F.D.R., Plan New Blows East and West

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House disclosure today that Prime Minister Churchill had brought with him three important leaders from the India theatre or operations provided indications that the Prime Minister and President Roosevelt might place much emphasis in their conferences on strategy against Japan.

In the Churchill party were: Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander-in-chief of British forces in India; Admiral Sir James Somerville, commander-in-chief of the eastern fleet based at Ceylon; and Air Chief Marshal Sir Richard Peirse, air officer commanding in chief in India.

Their presence here for important war talks lent weight to the possibility that Britain and the United States might be charting new moves to assist China, perhaps by attempting to pry open the Burma road again for a vital supply artery.

President Roosevelt has promised that China will be used as a base for attacks on Japan itself.

Leaders Give Views On Europe Invasion

There was no reason to believe that the question of a second front on the European continent was to be sidetracked, however, since Mr. Churchill also brought with him some of his other key advisers.

They include Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the Imperial General Staff; Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, First Sea Lord; Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of the war staff; Lord Leathers, Minister of War Transport; Lord Cherwell, the Prime Minister's scientific adviser; Lt. Gen. Sir Hastings Ismay, chief staff officer to Mr. Churchill in the latter's capacity as Minister of Defence, and Brig. E. I. C. Jacob of the war cabinet.

For his part, Mr. Roosevelt had at hand the top military and naval men of the U.S.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said the Prime Minister and President had a long talk Tuesday night and that their meetings would be almost constant, as would those between their staffs.

Mr. Roosevelt was dividing his time today between his offices, where he arranged to keep appointments previously made, and the White House proper, where the bulk of his talks with Mr. Churchill were to take place.

Stillwell, Chennault Offer Information

White House officials said no United States officers from the India area, in so far as they know, have been brought to Washington for the parleys.

However, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commanding U.S. forces in India, came to the capital some time ago for conferences, as did Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, commanding U.S. air forces in China. They are here now.

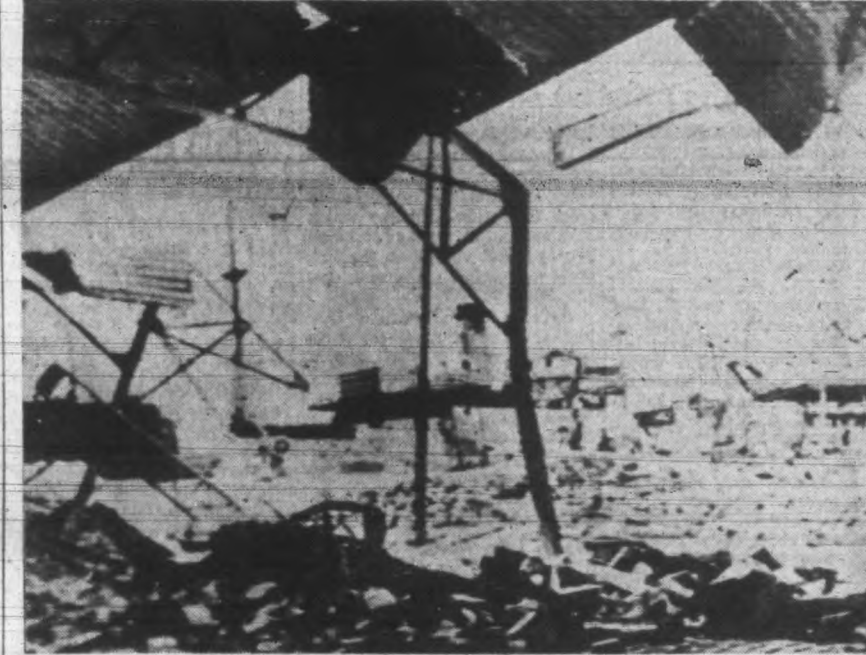

The possibility could not be discounted that some sort of joint sea, land and air offensive might be opened against the Japanese, but there was nothing to indicate whether that step

Allied Prisoners Freed in Tunis

When the Allies marched into Tunis, British and American troops were released from an Italian prison ship. Here a happy group is seen coming ashore at Tunis. The flag is the French tri-color with the cross of Lorraine.

Axis Relentlessly Pounded By Air Over Mediterranean

Wrecked Axis shipping can be seen through the ruins of a warehouse bombed by Allied fliers during the battle for Tunis.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA (AP)—

American bombers and fighters of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's strategic air force vigorously pursued their softening-up attacks on Sicily and Pantelleria, 40 miles off Cap Bon.

The raid on Marsala in Sicily Tuesday by 200 bombers and 100 fighters virtually rubbed that port off the map, returning airmen said.

The harbor railroad station, docks, hangars, repair shops, barges and other vessels were destroyed or hit with clockwork precision and the great winery whose output of Marsala wine is famous throughout the world was destroyed. The winery had been converted to a warehouse by the Axis.

SEEN FAR

The fliers said smoke from the fires was still visible as they crossed homeward over the Tunisian coast. Marsala has a population of about 25,000.

In an air battle the bombers shot down 12 enemy fighters and the fighting escort accounted for three more.

Pantelleria, the volcanic little isle about two-thirds the size of Malta which the Axis has tried to convert into an airplane, submarine and small sea craft base, also was heavily raided for the sixth time in four days Tuesday. The island has a population of 9,500.

Nearly 50 bombers from the desert air force also made a strategic attack on Catania, Sicily, shepherded by Spitfires from Malta, and blew up an ammunition ship and smashed other ships and harbor objectives with 250,000 pounds of explosives.

Porto Empedocle in Sicily and trains in southern Italy also were attacked from Malta.

(A Berlin broadcast by the Nazi propaganda agency, International Information Bureau, said "the position of German-Italian troops on Cap Bon Peninsula is hopeless." The broadcast was recorded in London by the Associated Press.)

"Pursued by a superior enemy coming from the north and pounded by aircraft, our 1st Army sustained the attacks of armored British forces yesterday," the Italians said. "They counterattacked with supreme valor. A proposal for surrender was made by Gen. Messe."

(The Italians said, however, that "in other sectors of the Tunisian front, after spending their last ammunition, Axis forces had to surrender.")

(They acknowledged the Allied bombings of Catania, Marsala, the Trapani area and Pantelleria Island, and claimed they had brought down 22 Allied planes, 14 of them in air duels.)

SAY 150 KILLED

(A supplement to the communique said 150 persons were killed and about 300 injured at Catania, and Sunday's day and night raids on Palermo killed 210 and injured 421.)

(Vichy announced in a communique that a force of French "volunteers" fighting for the Axis in Tunisia had lost two-thirds of its complement in battle.)

British Needle Isolated Enemy In 9-mile Area

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim, Axis commander in Tunisia, was captured by British forces.

This was announced today in the last dusty hours of the Axis struggle in north Africa, with the Germans and Italians holding only a rough circle nine miles across in the area north of Enfidaville, below Cap Bon.

It was being reduced rapidly, and a French communique announced that French motorized and armored forces in a swift eastward drive had effected a junction with the British coming from the north at Ste. Marie du Zit, 20 miles north of Enfidaville.

(The communique, as recorded from an Algiers broadcast, said the junction "completed the dismembering of the Axis forces.")

A total of 25,000 prisoners had been captured in the Zaghuan area, the French said.

German resistance already had dissolved on Cap Bon to the north, where British armor made a complete tour of the peninsula and then cut inland and began rounding up tens of thousands of unwearying Germans who gladly threw up their hands in surrender.

Streams of meek Germans, driving their own trucks, moved bumper to bumper in miles-long lines from dusty Cap Bon toward prison cages in the rear.

So thoroughly had the patrols of Lt. Gen. Kenneth Anderson's 1st Army infiltrated into Cap Bon

Masses of Germans Drive Selves to Prison

By DANIEL DE LUCE
MEDJEEZ EL BAB, Tunisia (AP)—Africa's strangest procession moved in the pre-dawn darkness today for 90 miles from the tip of Cap Bon peninsula to the bomb-scarred hamlet of Medjez el Bab, 34 miles west of captured Tunis.

The picture: Hitler's invincibles were driving themselves, uncourted, to Allied prison pens.

German and Italian soldiers, crowded into every kind of vehicle in their armies except tanks, streamed in a dust-choked file almost bumper to bumper through the battle zone in which the north African campaign was fought for six months and concluded with a six-day Allied attack.

Mile after mile, the beaten Axis survivors drove without any sort of British guard along a route where military police were 10 miles or more apart.

Like uncertain tourists, the surrendered enemy kept inquiring the correct way to their ultimate destination, and at every halt from curious Allied service troops far behind the erstwhile front the Axis vehicles came to a full halt.

French, native-born Italians and Arabs stared open-mouthed at this parade which seemed endless and continued all night. The procession swung through Tunis itself along streets where every house proudly flew the Tricolor.

Some Axis prisoners played accordions and mandolins, but mostly these truckloads of defeated men were grimly, wearily silent.

There was not a single report of any prisoners trying to escape into the countryside, although it would have been easy.

No Fight Left In German Troops

The following earlier dispatch was filed Tuesday by correspondent De Luce:

ON CAP BON PENINSULA, Tunisia (AP)—The German fighting spirit ebbed to nothingness and tens of thousands of Nazi soldiers threw up many arms and raised white flags in surrender to Peninsula that Allied bombing of the riddled area was called off late Tuesday because of the danger of hitting friendly troops.

The Germans and Italians hemmed in a circular area about 15 miles across, and this was being given severe punishment by the air forces as well as by the troops, but the communique said "the lack of suitable targets indicated the approaching end of the air battle over Tunisia."

While many Germans were still at large on Cap Bon's inland mountains, they were mostly service personnel not much interested in fighting.

The total of prisoners was expected to pass the 100,000 mark. The completed count in the area of the 2nd U.S. Army Corps showed the Americans, French Free Corps and Moroccan Goumiers had taken 37,998 prisoners, of whom 33,498 were Germans.

(The Italian communique said Gen. Giovanni Messe, commander of the 1st Italian army in Cap Bon, who is reported to have been left as commander of all Axis forces in Tunisia as well, had rejected a demand for surrender by Lt. Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, V.C., commander of the New Zealand 2nd Division attached to the 8th Army.)

Germans and Italians were offering considerable resistance in the mountains west of Bou Fichta and north of Enfidaville.

They had been wedged off from Cap Bon by British armor driving south from Tunis which had reached Bou Fichta on the coastal road, 11 miles southwest of Hammamet on the peninsula and 15 miles north of Enfidaville.

Saluting as his Adam's apple bobbed nervously, he said his company was complete, including a field kitchen, and was ready to drive its own vehicles to any destination I could name.

"Marschieren Sie Weiter," was all I could reply, pointing in the direction of Tunis.

Following almost on the rear bumpers of the armored cars in the dash up the cape's western coast, I am unable to report what is happening on the eastern shoreline, around Kelibia, where heavier British forces have been engaged. But I have personally viewed about 30,000 prisoners of whom only 3,000 or so were Italians.

The German crackup along the main west road has been so sudden and complete that the greatest hazard I have encountered was from an Allied fighter bomber raid at 2:30 p.m. which set the hilly brush afire a half-mile from where I was hastily lurching on sauerkraut and brown bread.

Churchill in U.S. to Lay New Battle Plans Russian Strategy To Influence Talk Of Allied Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid conjecture that he had come for a final checking over of plans for the invasion of Europe, Prime Minister Winston Churchill arrived here Tuesday night for his fifth conference with President Roosevelt in 21 months, the fourth since the U.S. entered the conflict in December, 1940.

The disclosure by authoritative Washington sources that Lord Beaverbrook, London publisher and former British cabinet minister, also was in Washington—though not a member of the official party—was regarded by some quarters here as highly significant.

Since Russia's entry into the war, Beaverbrook has been the Russians' outstanding champion in the House of Lords and is generally regarded as an authority on the Soviet. This led some circles to express belief that he might participate in any talks on co-ordination of a European invasion with Russian military operations.

It was also believed he might be called into any conferences on Russian-Polish relations.

This new Anglo-American conference gives added significance to the secret letter which President Roosevelt entrusted to Joseph E. Davis to deliver to Premier Stalin in Moscow. The contents of the message have not been revealed and there has been no definite indication that the Russian Premier might join the talks here, or even that he has been invited to do so.

Nor was there any way of learning whether the conversations would continue long enough for the Russian leader to reach Washington in time to participate.

Chiang Kai-shek To Be Kept Advised

It was considered likely, in any case, that he and Chinese Gen. Chiang Kai-shek would be kept advised of the meeting, as was the case when the British-U.S. war leaders met at Casablanca last January.

At Casablanca, the President and Prime Minister charted plans for invading Europe, they announced, and determined to force "unconditional surrender" on the Axis. The current parley is expected to solidify their determination on that point, and at least, indirectly, answer peace feelers which have been emanating from Spain.

Ever since the final rout of the Axis forces in north Africa began, speculation has been widespread about the next Allied step. Possible invasion points have been mentioned all the way from Norway down through Holland, Belgium, France, Italy and around the Mediterranean to Greece.

Several times President Roosevelt has promised there will be an invasion or invasions.

He has spoken of them coming this year, but has omitted any reference to a specific time element. Whether it will be necessary for Allied forces to regroup themselves and obtain replacements in men and material after the African campaign, remains to be seen.

Even if they were unavailable for any immediate attempt to crack the European fortress on the continent, it is known that tremendous concentrations of arms and men have been built up by Britain and the United States in Britain itself.

There were signs that Mr. Churchill's trip to Washington was arranged somewhat hurriedly, since, in contrast with the volume of rumors that preceded his previous journeys to North America, there was a minimum of speculation this time.

Best informed observers said flatly that war strategy was the prime purpose of the conference, although political problems involved in the invasion plans undoubtedly would be discussed, as well as co-ordination of Russian and Allied offensives.

Pole-Russ Dispute May Be Discussed

Soothing of the dispute between the Poles and Russians and the intramural arguments of the French also were regarded as likely subjects taken into consideration, together with allotment of war supplies for the global conflict.

These significant facts were recalled:

When Mr. Churchill met President Roosevelt in Washington June 18, 1942, British fortunes in the Middle East were at the lowest. The 8th Army stood at El Alamein July 2 and the subsequent turn-around was followed by the north Africa invasion Nov. 8.

Mr. Churchill met Stalin Aug. 12, 1942, and the Russians began their Stalingrad and Voronezh counteroffensives the next day. The former resulted in the gravest German defeat to date.

Again, Jan. 14, 1943, Mr. Churchill met Mr. Roosevelt at Casablanca and the two set "unconditional surrender" as the joint war aim. March 20 the 8th Army moved against the Mareth positions and drove through, while United States forces began tentative advances which reached their height with the Tunisian victory.

Mr. Churchill's visit, aside from the practical value which high sources give it as "supreme propaganda," comes at the moment of greatest opportunity for the Allies.

Their military stock never was higher. The occupied countries are seething with revolt, which has finally broken into the open in Holland and other countries.

Gen. Francisco Franco's peace feeler Monday is viewed as a barometer of the Allied political position, observers recalling the optimistic tone of Premier Stalin's May Day order of the day.

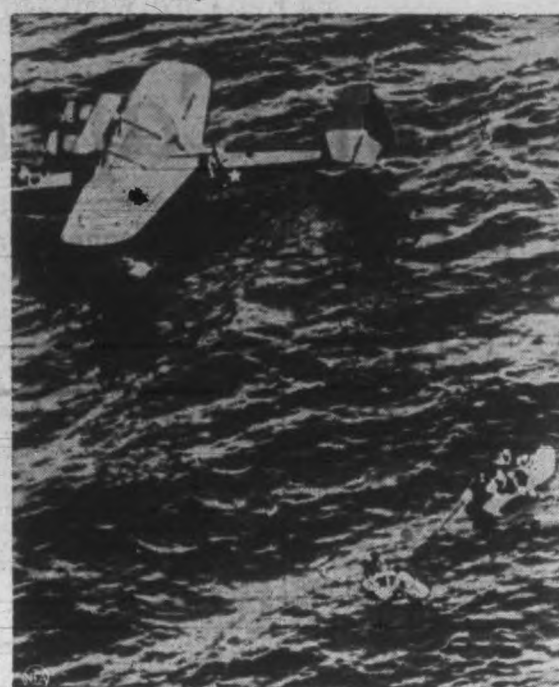

Stalin Informed Conference Coming

In the light of the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting, observers are convinced Stalin was fully informed that it was scheduled, that he knew the kill was on for Tunisia, and that he had been assured the second front was not far off.

It was pointed out, however, that nearly five months were required after the June meeting to organize the attack on north Africa.

There was speculation here that the real invasion, whether on what the Prime Minister has called the vulnerable "soft underbelly of the Axis" or somewhere between Spain and the North Cape, might be preceded by a series of diversionary feints.

Rescue at Sea

Coastguard plane comes to rest on the water to aid in the rescue of 11 survivors of a merchant ship, sunk by an enemy submarine off the east coast of the U.S. A navy blimp first sighted the men, clinging to pieces of wreckage. It dropped an inflated lifeboat, hovered overhead until the coastguard picked up the men, who were landed at Miami, Fla.

1,000 Nazis Killed Before Leningrad In Day's Fighting

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—More than 1,000 German troops have been killed on the Leningrad front in the last 24 hours, Russian dispatches said today, as the entire battleline surged with new activity from that northern sector to the continuing struggle around Novorossisk, on the Black Sea.

The action before Leningrad, whose 515-day siege was broken in mid-January, appeared to be only a scouting operation in force, intended to establish a new German sector line and not the beginning of an out-and-out offensive. The German attempts failed after two attacks.

The Red Army generally held the initiative everywhere along the line, and the government newspaper Izvestia said editorially "the war with Hitlerite Germany has entered its decisive phase."

NOVOROSSISK FIGHT

The battle for Novorossisk apparently had resolved itself into a Russian attempt to pulverize the German positions with air attacks, sustained artillery fire and infantry sorties.

The midnight communiqué said 56 enemy planes were destroyed in the area Tuesday against a loss of 11 Soviet planes.

In the lower Kuban valley, apparently northwest of Novorossisk, a German fortified key position was reported captured and a company of German troops killed in Tuesday's fighting.

Resumption of German attacks on the Russian Donets River positions near Lisichansk, gateway to Voroshilovgrad, was reported. Three waves of Nazi tank and infantry assaults were beaten off, 13 enemy tanks knocked out and about 800 Germans killed in the last 24 hours, it was said.

South of Leningrad, on the Volkhov front, Red Army artillery thundered in an apparent attempt to prevent any big movement of Germans into front line positions.

Catania, Sicily Blasted By Bombers

CAIRO (AP)—United States heavy bombers, escorted by R.A.F. fighters, made a highly successful attack Tuesday on the harbor of Catania, Sicily, blowing up an ammunition ship, setting a tanker afire and scoring hits on other shipping, a Middle East air communiqué announced today.

The raid was made by 50 bombers, which dropped 250,000 pounds of bombs. It was disclosed in Malta that the R.A.F. fighter escort was from that British base.

Damage also was done to docks and harbor installations, the bulletin said. One mole, where three ships were tied up, was reported demolished.

"The whole dock area was left in flames," the communiqué added.

The bulletin also disclosed that in raids on Axis shipping in the Aegean two enemy sailing vessels were badly shot up Tuesday by long-range fighters. Two Junkers-52's were reported shot down during that foray.

Yukon Peace River Leads B.C. in Loan

VANCOUVER (CP)—Applications to the Fourth Victory Loan drive in the British Columbia-Yukon drive Tuesday totaled $97,196,200, including $31,470,400 from the general public. The area's objective is $110,000,000.

Yukon-Atlin-Peace River maintained its divisional lead with 87 per cent, compared with Vancouver's 77 per cent. Dawson-Mayo continues at the top in the unit race with 212 per cent, or $63,500 on a quota of $30,000.

U.S. Now Has Margin Of Machine Tools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Because the United States now has the plants and tools needed "to build production to beat the Axis," the War Production Board today ordered a sweeping cut-back in new war plant construction and machine tool output.

An estimated $4,000,000,000 worth of approved government-financed plant projects and machine tool contracts will be reviewed by the W.P.B., and in every case where existing plants or machines can do the job, the contracts are to be canceled and plant construction stopped.

Signaling the final breaking of the machine tool bottleneck, W.P.B. said a number of tool makers would go out of that business and into direct production of munitions.

Hit-Run Raiders Bomb East Anglia

LONDON (CP)—Two persons were killed and others were reported trapped in the wreckage of buildings today when German Focke-Wulf fighter-bombers skimmed in low from the sea and attacked an East Anglian coastal town in a daylight raid.

Three dwellings were flattened by one bomb which landed in a park and bounced 150 yards across a street before exploding.

Two places on the East Anglian coast were bombed by a small number of German raiders, but no casualties or damage were reported.

Von Arnim Goes To Jail With Troops?

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm Tidningen said today that Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim probably would "go to prison with his soldiers," and that presumably there would be no attempt to remove him from Tunisia, where he has been commanding Axis troops.

The correspondent's dispatch indicated that so far as his knowledge went, Von Arnim is still in Tunisia, although there have been some reports he had left.

Call Hitler Murderer, 3 Students Executed

LONDON (CP)—Three university students, one a girl, are reported here to have been executed in Munich, Germany, for distributing leaflets calling Hitler a murderer.

The reports said the three—Hans and Sophia Scholl and Christoph Probst—were shot after a Gestapo inquiry into the circulation of leaflets which filtered from Munich to colleges in northern and central Germany and Bavaria.

Today's War Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Prime Minister Churchill's arrival in Washington is a further stimulating exhibition of that friendly Allied co-operation and co-ordination of effort which made the great Tunisian victory possible.

It's the Axis debacle in north Africa, of course, which has brought the great man across the Atlantic again. That has opened the floodgate of possibilities for direct assault on Hitler's European fortress—or what he hopes is a fortress. It also may ease the way for extension of activities against the Japs.

There has been no indication of what line the Washington conference might take. It would be surprising, however, if the fundamental strategy of knocking out Hitler first should be abandoned in favor of shifting to the Orient.

This is a far different occasion from the first meeting of these two great figures in August of 1941 when they held their historic Atlantic conference. The Germans were sweeping all before them.

What a change now! We get a fair measure of it in the little story of Maj. Gen. Willibald Roewitz, commander of the German 5th Armored Division in Tunisia, who wept when he surrendered to the British 7th Armored Division. For once we have tears squeezed from the Hitlerian brand of Prussian militarism, which has been murdering and pillaging in an effort to enslave the world.

Then from Cap Bon comes word of the German soldiers who rode to voluntary imprisonment in an Arab cart drawn by a plume-bedecked horse—and they cheered wildly as they drove out of the war. Hitler's invincibles!

That doesn't mean all the Germans are going to ride gaily to surrender behind a plume-adorned Arab horse. We have heavy and costly fighting ahead

Italians in Tunis Say Revolution Coming in Italy

TUNIS (Delayed, AP)—Italian troops, who already hated their German comrades-in-arms, were furiously angry when they heard that Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had been withdrawn from Africa to save him from responsibility for the Axis debacle in Tunisia; it was reported here today.

"All during the time they were in Tunisia, the Germans and Italians would not speak to each other," said Leland R. A. Smith, formerly of Portland, Ore., who served as United States consul in Tunis for eight years preceding the war.

Smith had been held under arrest at his home in the Tunis suburb of La Marsa for the past six months.

DID NOT FRATERNIZE

"Italians and Germans were never seen together on the streets," he said, "and refused to frequent the same hotels and cafes."

"Italians living in Tunis are confident the people of Italy won't stand much more, and believe a revolution is brewing."

Smith disclosed for the first time just how close the Allied gamble on reaching Tunis with a small expeditionary force early in December came to success.

"On the night the American troops got to Djedeida, the Germans were ready to evacuate," he said.

"Their general staff had their bags all packed at the Hotel Majestic" (in which this dispatch is being written) "and planes were ready to leave with them for Italy. Every fighting soldier and every gun they had was sent into the line."

"The distant gunfire rattled the windows of my house. But then gunfire faded, and we knew the Allied forces had been driven back."

of us—perhaps some of the bloodiest work of the entire war, for we shall be attacking a powerful enemy on his own grounds.

Gallup Poll

41 Per Cent of Adults Are Total Abstainers

TORONTO — The Canadian public, which now consumes about 88,000,000 gallons of beer every 12 months, compared with 63,000,000 gallons before the war, is inclined to feel that straight rationing of beer is preferable to any first-come-first-served policy. But all provinces do not think alike, and opinions from province to province are as varied as provincial liquor regulations themselves.

Several provinces have already introduced coupon rationing of beer, and in order to find out how the public feel about it, the Gallup Poll put several questions to a nation-wide cross-section of the population.

First question was: "Do you think the government regulations cutting down on the amount of beer sold in Canada were necessary or unnecessary?"

Greatest number think reductions in quotas were necessary: Regulations necessary, 44 per cent, not necessary 35 per cent, undecided 21 per cent.

Women were much more inclined to think the reduction necessary than were the men.

Gallup reporters then asked (and the survey was made prior to the introduction of rationing in various provinces):

"Do you think these restrictions on beer are working out fairly satisfactorily, or would you prefer to see beer rationed? Restrictions satisfactory 21 per cent, want rationing 42 per cent, want no restrictions or rationing 17 per cent, undecided 20 per cent.

The above percentages represent sent opinion over the nation as a whole. But provincial opinion varies quite sharply. This difference is illustrated by the replies received from Ontario and Quebec:

	Ontario	Quebec
Reg. satisfactory	19	26
Want rationing	42	27
Want neither	16	24
Undecided	23	23
	100%	100%

As a general rule (and Manitoba, where the largest number were undecided, appears to be the only exception) rationing is most popular in those provinces which either already have some form of it, or, as in Ontario, have announced beer rationing.

An interesting figure brought out in connection with this survey is that 41 per cent of the adult population of Canada considers itself in the total abstainer class. Gallup reporters put this question to the people:

"Do you ever have occasion to use any alcoholic beverage, such as liquor, wine or beer, or are you a total abstainer?" Use alcohol 59 per cent, total abstainer 41 per cent.

A big percentage of those who term themselves total abstainers are women:

	Men	Women
Use alcohol	72	45
Total abstainer	28	55

It might surprise some to find that drinkers and non-drinkers gave equal support to rationing of beer, although, naturally, more of the drinkers voted for no restrictions or rationing than non-drinkers.

A.R.P. MEETING

James M. Landis, director of civilian defence, U.S.A., recently stated that "the possibility of Japanese attack upon the west coast is real and near..." Other well-informed authorities have said the danger is greater now than it has ever been. This being the case, it is the obvious duty of all Victorians to prepare themselves against impending attack.

In an air raid it is the duty of every householder to protect his family and property, and the responsibility of doing so is his. It is also the duty of every individual to learn how to deal with incendiary bombs and incipient fires, to know all about protection from poison gas and other dangers resulting from enemy action.

In order to make this information available to persons residing in A.R.P. District 10, a series of gatherings has been arranged, to which the general public has been invited, on each occasion three films on topical subjects will be shown, and there will also be a talk on some phase of civilian protection of importance to all.

The next meeting will be held in Sir James Douglas School auditorium on Wednesday, May 12, at 8 p.m. The subject of the talk will be "Protection Against War Gases."

District No. 10 is the area bounded by Cook, Pandora, St. Charles and the sea.

CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

Dr. Laycock of the Division of Education and Mental Health says in your newspaper, May 6, that "children must make their own decisions"; then, when children get nabbed for delinquency the public is blandly informed that "the fault rests largely with the parents."

The "New World Order" has been working for 20 years and more to break down parental control over children. Their ultimate long-term aim is that children shall be entirely controlled by the state.

Ever since this child psychology business was started, child delinquency has been increasing. They know, as well as I do, the real causes of its steady increase. Dr. Laycock quotes, "the need of children for self-esteem, what our grandfathers called self-respect," whereas self-respect has nothing in common with self-esteem. Self-respect makes one law-abiding.

Self-esteem means conceit, cocksureness and consequent inability to understand the other fellow's viewpoint. "Self-esteem," artificially and nationally administered, got Fascist Italy into its present mess.

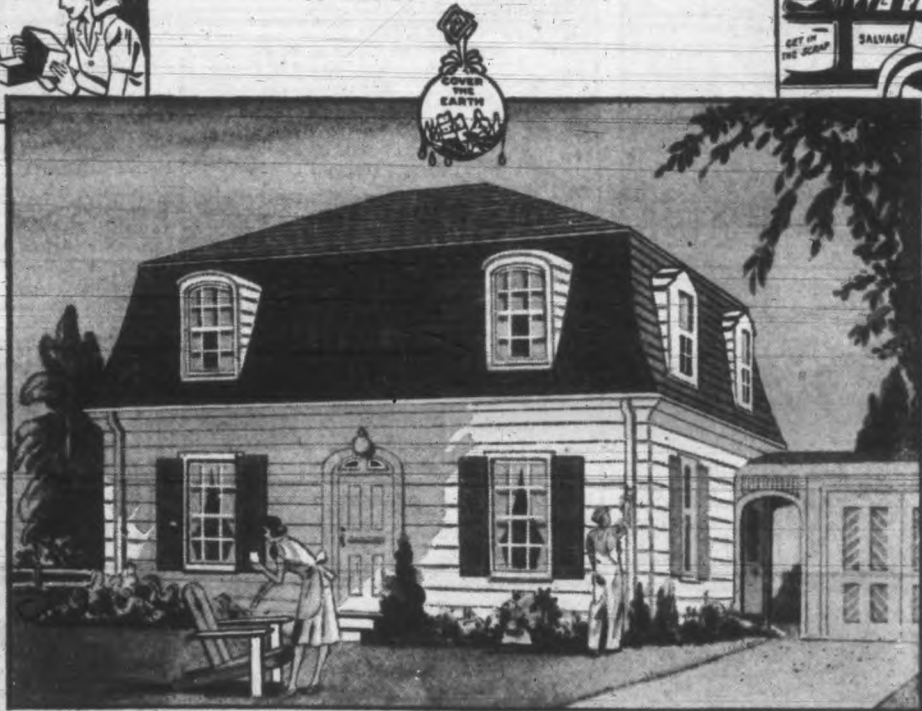

Also, this regimented "group play," etc., for children, helps to do away with their originality of thought, so that they will eventually become all alike, like peas in a pod.

Unfortunate teachers and parents are constantly told that no matter how badly children behave, they, the children, must feel that they are "esteemed."

Perhaps some day unfortunate parents whose children are removed from their control for some childish delinquency, the children "making their own decisions," will appraise these child psychologists at their true value.

Prime Minister and President

AFTER THE CASABLANCA CONFERENCE Mr. Churchill indicated that he might have to confer again with Mr. Roosevelt before all the decisions reached at that memorable meeting had been worked out in practical form. The period for the complete unfolding of what came to be called the "Unconditional Surrender" program was expected to require about nine months.

The arrival of the Prime Minister in Washington last night, however, leads to the belief that the great Allied victory in Tunisia not only has gone according to the Casablanca plan but has actually exceeded the rosiest anticipations. Both Mr. Churchill and the President, in terms charged with a lively understanding of the difficult nature of the task, had warned the peoples of the United Nations that many months of bitter and costly fighting must be considered the prelude to the removal of the last Axis soldier from African soil. Bitter fighting there has been since the beginning of the year; but it has not cost anything like as much in human lives and material as we had been led to suppose it would. The miraculous advance of the British Eighth Army—which sealed the fate of the Afrika Korps between the end of October and the time the two statesmen met at Casablanca—had raised high the hopes of the peoples of the democratic coalition. Those hopes nevertheless were tinged with not a little apprehension about the implications and threats of the final stand of the enemy on his last bridgehead of the dark continent. In that spot would be the crucial test of Allied co-operation and collaboration—the pattern of unified command and operation. No further fears on this score need plague the skeptics. British, American and French troops have revealed the shape and intent of the things to come. Axis nations and their satellites should be under no illusion. The events of the last week may well be termed, to borrow Mr. Churchill's phrase, "the end of the beginning."

What has determined this fifth and seemingly unexpected conference between the Prime Minister and the President at this early stage, whether it be that their program is ahead of schedule or whether other matters demand the practical face-to-face formula of dealing with them, we may be able to deduce from events as they unfold. One had supposed, nevertheless, that the "theatre-by-theatre" examination of this global conflict which marked the Casablanca conversations had specifically determined the time and place—or places—of the next and final assault on the European Axis. On this point we must rest our souls in patience.

Of one thing we may be sure: This latest heart-to-heart talk between the Prime Minister and the President at close range must be causing Hitler and Mussolini—yes, and Hirohito, too—more concern and anxiety than they would dare to admit to their respective peoples. If the dictators are capable of some of the emotions to which we grew accustomed during and after the famous Brenner Pass meetings, their state of mind today can be better imagined than described. Nor need we be concerned about them.

Naturally the propagandists of Berlin and Rome will attempt various mollifying formulas to quieten peoples who, at long last, must be realizing that the myth of Axis invincibility is now inexorably exploding. They will note, no doubt, the absence from this meeting of Mr. Stalin, and revive the old but futile technique of sowing seeds of mistrust and suspicion. But neither the Herr Doktor Goebbels nor Signor Virginio Gayda can "explain" Tunisia or the developing Russian offensives. They had better make up their minds to the fact that the United Nations are united nations in the most important sense of the appellation.

Canadians in R.A.F.

OUT AT PATRICIA BAY ARE SEVERAL Canadian boys who joined the Royal Air Force prior to and following the outbreak of war 45 months ago. Some of them served with outstanding distinction during the Battle of Britain and others have had a good deal of experience in raids over Germany and enemy-occupied countries. Now they are back in their native land. It is not surprising they should desire to transfer from their original organization to the Royal Canadian Air Force. Not that they have anything but pleasant memories of their association with the R.A.F. But there is a natural desire to continue their fine service with their own kin. As matters stand at present, however, no machinery exists under which such transfers could be effected. As part of Air Minister Power's original policy of "Canadianizing" the R.C.A.F., it would seem that no great difficulty should be encountered in this regard. Perhaps if the attention of the authorities at Ottawa were drawn to the matter, and sufficient applications for such a transfer were filed, requisite action might follow with no undue delay.

Fascists breathe easier now. It seems the Russians may not march into Berlin this spring.

Colonel McMullin

NOT ALL OFFICERS OF THE LAW ARE possessed of the happy combination of a capacity to make friends and a perfect concept of the basic requirements inherent in the demands of our society. These, with many other fine qualities of heart and mind, were among the characteristics of the late Colonel J. H. McMullin; and to them he owed the outstanding success which marked his long term as Commissioner of Police for British Columbia. He knew men and their moods; his experience as a soldier, and his long years of official life before he assumed the duties in this province which rounded off a distinguished career, furnished him with the background against which his administrative genius stood out in relief.

Successive Attorneys-General of British Columbia will bear witness to the magnificent job Colonel McMullin did in endowing the provincial police force with a reputation second to none. It was not the simplest of tasks; the area of his jurisdiction embraced a manifold physical variety and a vast territory populated with diverse types. He was nothing, however, if not a psychologist. His X-ray powers of penetration quickly exposed subterfuge and the "tall yarn." But, withal, his approach to the most intricate, even the most revolting, case never found him wanting in that tolerant bearing on which the fundamentals of British justice securely rest. And his love of good literature had enriched those fine human instincts of which he was ever the exemplar.

Up To Congress Now

ALTHOUGH IT SEEMS FAIRLY CERTAIN that Congress will approve the majority report of the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee, and endorse a further three-year renewal of the Trade Agreements Act, it is evident that some Republican members intend to do their utmost to insert a clause providing congressional power to veto any agreements to which they might be disposed to object. The administration's refusal to consider such an amendment, of course, is based on the fact that when tariff revision is thrown into Congress it usually takes a long time and, through the progress of log-rolling, generally results in rate increases rather than those decreases which are necessary in the interests of world trade and peace.

Speaking on this important subject in Toledo on Monday, Mr. Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, declared that repudiation of the Act in Congress would strike "a heavy blow" at the hope for an everlasting end to war. He was speaking to a forum discussing peace problems and added this potent comment:

"If the United States repudiates the Trade Agreements Act, either outright or by crippling amendments, it is thus repudiating the idea of economic nonaggression. It will have destroyed the stuff of which peace is made. It will have struck a heavy blow at the hopes of mankind for riding this world of the scourge of war and for creating a just, a workable and lasting peace."

Canada is one of the nations which enjoys a reciprocal trading agreement with the United States. But this country's pact is on a somewhat different basis from that operative between our neighbor and more than a couple of dozen other states. Its provisions stipulate that unless six months' notice to terminate is given by either party, it is to continue indefinitely thereafter. No such action has been taken; none is expected. The pact is now more than three years old. In any case, of course, the war has a direct relationship to Canada-United States trade.

Why Not Seize Martinique?

WITHOUT PRECISE DETAILS OF THE situation recently created by the severance of relations between the United States and the little dictatorial regime of Admiral Georges Robert in Martinique, the outside world is speculating on the next move against this agent of the Nazi-controlled Vichy administration, involving as it does an important piece of territory opposite the Panama Canal. The tone of the note which Mr. Cordell Hull sent to Martinique's High Commissioner was a plain intimation that the State Department had lost all patience with Admiral Robert's refusal to recognize any authority save that of the puppet government which Pierre Laval operates on instructions from Berlin.

Martinique in the hands of its present High Commissioner will remain a potential danger-spot. There have been persistent rumors that the island was being used both as a refuelling base for German submarines and as a signalling station giving information to them about the movements of Allied shipping. This appears to be borne out in fact by a statement made in the House of Representatives at Washington by Representative Morrison. He declared he had definite information that American submarines on defence projects in Trinidad had heard, through their short wave receiving sets, conversations between commanders of German submarines about refuelling in which the island was frequently mentioned.

To all intents and purposes, at least as far as the general principle is concerned, there would seem to be no more reason for allowing Martinique to remain in Vichy-French hands than there would have been for leaving Madagascar a convenient spot for Japanese use. With the island under the control of the United Nations, as a naval base, the whole Caribbean area could be much more effectively protected against the depredations of enemy submarines than is possible so long as Admiral Robert is free to disseminate information as he thinks fit. It is high time for a showdown.

In some sections, used cars bring more than they cost new. Given two more years of scarcity and inflation, we'll all be riding in $5,000 cars.

STAGE SPECTACLE

THIS IS THE season when the gardener begins to wonder if it is all worth while. He has labored all winter in the wind and rain (as I have mentioned before, I think), he has dug up the cold ground in March, he has raked the leaves and weeded the rockery, and there are now blisters on his hands and an ache in his back and what has he to show for it?

He has, on the tangible side, some green peas sprouting and the first tiny wisps of spinach and a few green blades of carrots (which the carrot worm will shortly attend to quite effectively). He has, in fact, nothing that the ordinary man would consider in the least valuable. It is only if and when the vegetables grow to maturity and the ordinary man is hungry that he will begin to appreciate the gardener's labors at all.

But such calculations, of course, miss the point entirely. The gardener is an articulate man. He cannot speak his thoughts in words and must produce them in the form of growth. If he could write he would be able to set down substantial exhibits on the asset side of the ledger, but they would be written in invisible ink, which the ordinary man could not read.

The gardener's assets are those of the showman. The gardener is the greatest showman on earth. He works to produce a single moment of spectacle. He labors all year for a few days of perfection. He arranges one of his great stage effects for spring, perhaps one in rose time and another, a last rush of color, in the autumn. But each spectacle is almost over before it begins.

HOW SOON!

AT THIS SEASON how fast his colors fade and his stage props decay. In a few days the daffodils, which are the background and chorus of the stage, begin to drop, as Herrick long ago watched them "haste away while the early-rising sun has not attained his noon," as Wordsworth watched them also—that host of golden daffodils beside Lake Windermere which were grossly exaggerated in his rhyme and are not nearly as fine as those we grow here. The daffies soon are gone, the aubretia quickly droops, the crocuses already are a memory, their little golden cups melted again into nature's gold reserves, and almost before you can take a good look at it—the great torrent of spring color will have dried up.

What has the gardener got for all his pains? Only a look. Only the satisfaction of peering for a few hours at the stage which he has decked. Only the chance to kneel down and examine the peculiar structure of an anemone, or to stretch up and see the remarkable internal arrangements of a plum blossom, with its yellow stamens standing up briskly like whiskers. Only the chance to go out early in the morning and smell the growth while others are lying brutally in bed, or to stroll in the evening among the beds of primroses and observe their pale faces lifted coyly from the earth (if they survived last winter's frost).

PECULIAR TREASURE

THE GARDENER FOR all his pains may seem to have no more than the ordinary observer. Flowers are free for all in this town. The parks are full of them. You can observe them over the humblest garden fence (which is one of the few assurances that civilization will survive). Ah, yes, but it is only the man who grows them that can extract the ultimate satisfaction and pleasure from them. He is the only one who smells the full perfume or perceives the entire shape and beauty, or begins to feel the miracle of their structure, and the gigantic mystery of mere earth turning, within a few weeks, into a sweet blossom.

Thus in these spring evenings the gardener perceives scents, forms, mysteries quite hidden from the man who has not helped to create them with his labor. Consider the glory of that plum tree yonder, which is now blossoming for its 70th spring, and which sprays out its blossom like a vast and living fountain which moves and sways and is never still like the works of man. No man who has not pruned out its moldering branches, who has not dug fertilizer into its roots and cultivated it, and saved it from the drought and destruction which threatened it a few years ago, can possibly appreciate this old plum tree, which now exists for no purpose but to produce two days of blossoming, which even now is shedding its glory in a little sweet-scented snowstorm.

CURTAIN DOWN

AND HOW CAN anyone fully understand the joy of Alpine plants pouring their color down the rocks if he has not placed the rocks there himself and does not know with what cunning they were arranged, so as to appear most careless and natural, and how well the bed was drained, and what went into the mixture of its soil?

If we must descend to these grosser considerations, what man has ever tasted the true flavor of the first spinach or of the first innocent beet unless he has dug the ground and placed the seed in the rows? Such a man will appreciate the spinach even though it be tough and the beet even if they may be sour. All taste good to him. Just as all flowers give him joy because he understands them. And so, though the pleasure be brief, though the wonderful effects of spring, like young love, can never last, yet it is worth while; and no sooner is it over and the curtain down than the gardener is at work again shifting scenery for the next production.

6 Months in N. Africa to Victory

OPENING 1942'S SECOND FRONT

NOVEMBER-DECEMBER—The world had about given up second front hopes in 1942 when British and American forces made their swift, surprise invasion of French North Africa. In quick clean-ups following landings along the coast, the Allies gained control of Morocco and Algeria and thrust into Tunisia. Meanwhile the British Eighth Army was chasing Rommel through Libya toward Tunisia. But the last 100 miles became the hardest for the Axis: rushed troops, planes and tanks to seize control of the eastern half of Tunisia.

BATTLE FOR TUNISIA BEGINS

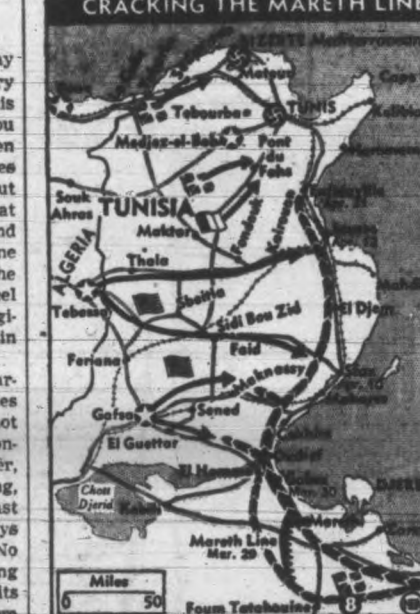

DECEMBER-FEBRUARY—The Battle for Tunisia began only a few days after the invasion of North Africa. British-American forces thrust to within artillery range of Bizerte and Tunis, but were turned back by Germans arriving by air and sea in ever-increasing numbers at their coastal bases. General Giraud's French troops were in action against the Axis on the central front, and our tank units fought Germans at Faid Pass and made a hit-run raid on Maknassy early in February.

SETBACK IN THE SOUTH

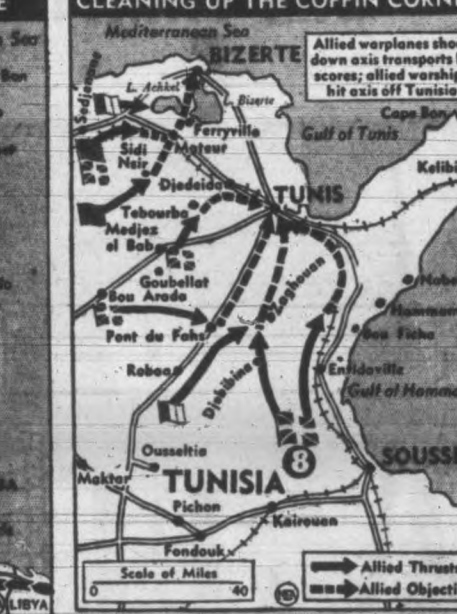

FEBRUARY-MARCH—Following their initial success in holding the Axis in northern Tunisia, Axis forces—joined by Rommel's troops and tanks from Libya—attacked Americans in the Gafsa area and drove them back to the Algerian border. But British Eighth Army pressure on Mareth Line brought a quick end to this Axis offensive, object of which was to delay the Allies another month. By mid-March, our reinforced forces drove the Axis back from Kasserine Pass toward the sea.

CRACKING THE MARETH LINE

MARCH-APRIL—A foxy, encircling drive cracked the Axis-held Mareth Line for the British Eighth Army and made General Montgomery the hero of Tunisia as well as of Egypt and Libya. Following the breakthrough to Gabes, the Eighth Army raced up the coast after Rommel's retreating remnants while American and French forces cleaned up in the interior. By mid-April, the Axis had fallen back to the tip of Tunisia and was preparing for its last stand in the northern mountains.

CLEANING UP THE COFFIN CORNER

APRIL-MAY—Caught in the "coffin corner," Axis fighters were doomed to either death or a "Dunkerque" on the northern shores of Tunisia. Allied air superiority made the chances of evacuation slim, so the trapped Axis troops fought desperately in their djebel (hill) positions and brought the British-French-American advance to a momentary halt. But in vain. Six months after the invasion of North Africa, comes the wind-up of this campaign with the Germans surrendering in wholesale numbers in a complete collapse.

WHY YOUTH FIGHTS BEST

From a Correspondent

In the welter of pro and con which has accompanied the arguments on the passage of the act to lower the draft age, many have quoted high-ranking army officers who have paid tribute to the stamina and intelligence of 18 and 19-year-old boys.

What officers in the field think about adding these youngsters to the army has not been so widely bruited about, and it was interesting to hear a young officer recently returned from service tell what he thought of the idea. In his opinion boys of that age make the finest soldiers in the world because they have what he calls "the priceless quality of intelligent, blind obedience to orders," and their minds are still so fluid that they can adapt themselves readily to any contingency.

"A boy of 18 or 19," he said, "has the necessary toughness of body and resiliency of mind to make the perfect soldier in the type of no-holds-barred war we are fighting today."

"Boys of that age can combine two seeming opposites: intelligence, and a blind obedience to orders. In the field—in action—there must be one man to make the decisions, and there must be no questioning of his authority. A youngster can exercise his initiative and yet, at the same time, unquestioningly follow the orders of his superior. In the identical situation, an older man, whose mental ability and experience are undoubtedly greater than a boy's, but who is accustomed to making his own decisions in his business and personal life, is more apt to say 'Why?' and in trying to fathom what lies behind the order may falter in executing it."

HUMANITY AND THE LAW

From Montreal Gazette.

Canada's Justice Department ruled last week that a child born out of wedlock has not a legal status and that tax exemption cannot be claimed on account of such child. We may take it for granted that in this respect the law officers of the Crown are right, but the law itself is wrong. Dr. Charlotte Whitton, former Canadian Welfare Council Director, spoke plainly to the Ottawa Women's Club Wednesday on this injustice. She pleaded eloquently for children who "are to be crucified on the cross of some strict legal ruling." She said humanity and Christianity demand remedial action. She foresaw the probability that hundreds of children may become charges upon charitable funds provided by the taxpayer, but her strongest argument was based on humanitarian grounds, the position in which the children and their mothers are placed. She has a very strong case.

Liberty has its origin in the sense that men must be able to worship God as their consciences direct. Religious liberty was the herald of political liberty or the source of the claim of it—Archbishop of Canterbury.

Navy Auxiliary Plans Street Dance And Flotilla Frolic

Two novel entertainments were planned for the coming months by the Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Navy at their regular monthly business meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. A street dance will be held in July, with the Royal Canadian Navy Band in attendance, and in November the Crystal Garden will be taken over for "Flotilla Frolic," a mammoth bazaar.

Mrs. Massey Gooden, president, was in the chair. Mrs. E. L. Armstrong, convener for the bazaar, stated that the date set was November 2 and that a Y.M.C.A. swimming gala was to be an added attraction and that dancing would be held during the evening. Members of the committee were at present working on articles for about 15 stalls, including baby wear, household utilities, aprons, bags, toys, plants and many novelties.

The block of Blanshard, running between Courtney and Broughton, was to be roped off for the street dance. Mrs. H. S. Morton, convener, reported. In addition to the R.C.N. Band, there were planned a number of stalls for refreshments and games. The dance is open to the public. It is hoped by this means to provide entertainment for members of the three services, the convener stated.

Mrs. Fred Holland reported that her committee, which is engaged in assisting the staff of Prince Robert House, has repaired 244 pieces of household linen in the past month. She appealed for more helpers from members of the auxiliary and the public for this work, in addition to helping at the desk and in the canteen.

Mrs. A. K. Storey, secretary, reported that a Safety Film, "Next of Kin," would be shown at the next meeting, May 18, at the Y.W.C.A. at 2. Members are requested to bring friends and the public is invited. A branch of the Victoria Women's Auxiliary to the R.C.N. was formed in Vancouver last month. Mrs. Storey stated, with Mrs. R. Beech as honorary president. Mrs. Storey reported that due to the efforts of the auxiliary members in ripping and washing old felt hats, later used for windbreakers, the output of these articles had increased 50 per cent. Mrs. V. P. Alleyne, convener of "hat-ripping" committee, reported 317 hats treated last month.

Mrs. R. Ponder read a satisfactory financial report, adding that the sum of $25 had been voted as a regular monthly contribution to the committee making windbreakers to be used for purchasing linings for the coats. Mrs. R. P. Kingscote, wool convener, reported a total of 955 knitted articles had been completed in April, including 17 pair of socks, 17 scarfs, four pair of mitts, 24 pair of seaboot socks, one jersey, two caps, seven tuck-ins and 25 helmets.

Mrs. A. C. Rutten reported that the making of ditty bags for seamen was progressing satisfactorily. Mrs. Lyman Williams, convener of the hospital committee, reported that from Jan. 18 to May 2 a total of 117 patients were visited in both hospitals and flowers or magazines given each patient. One layette was provided for an indigent mother.

It was decided to extend an invitation to the mothers and wives of all Allied naval officers to attend the weekly knitting meetings and the regular monthly business meeting. At present there have only been in attendance the wives and mothers of Canadian naval officers.

British People Stood Blitz Because Roots in History

"People who have their roots down in history, as we have in England, feel a kind of passionate need not to let either the past or the future down." So said Rev. Michael Coleman to explain the gallant, courageous way which the people of London stood up to the blitz, in addressing the Women's Canadian Club Tuesday afternoon.

1,366 YEARS OLD
Formerly rector of All Hallows, the famous old church on Tower Hill, London, Mr. Coleman touched on the history of this church, which recently celebrated its 1,366th birthday and whose ancient walls were badly damaged in the blitz. When Julius Caesar landed in Britain in 54 B.C. there was a pagan church on the site of the present edifice, and beneath it still lie ruins of a Roman wall and temple, he told his audience.

Its eight glorious bells, centuries old, were lost at the time of the blitz, and Mr. Coleman recalled the lead of which they were made melted and ran before the ancient oak beams on which they hung had burned through, so stout were they.
Many notable figures were associated with All Hallows, Wm. Penn, who later founded the State of Pennsylvania, was born in the dining-room of the church house and thus was really a Cockney, the speaker observed. Samuel Pepys wrote of the church in his diary, and the heart of Richard Coeur de Lion reposed in the church for 150 years.

NIGHTS OF HORROR
Mr. Coleman described the 53 days and nights in which the City of London underwent almost ceaseless bombing. He paid tribute to the fortitude and humor of the ordinary people throughout the awful ordeal, citing many instances from his own experience in the role of qualified fireman, A.R.P. warden, ambulance man, fire-fighter, member of a defense motion gang, as well as priest. In the latter role he conducted services.

Housewives Play Judge's Ruling As 'Monstrous'

LONDON (CP)—When Judge
Donald Hurst ruled in Oxford
County Court that money saved by a wife on housekeeping legally belongs to her husband and that in the same way money made by the wife from lodgers also is due to the husband, women all over the country rose up in arms.
They denounced the judgment as "perfectly monstrous."

The Married Women's Association, vigilant guardian of the housewife's rights, through its secretary, Juanita Frances, declared the judgment only showed once more that a housewife is
"virtually a slave."

"We are working for the joint ownership of family earnings, in which case any money saved from a sum set aside for housekeeping should be pooled between husband and wife," said the secretary.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, famous for her fight for women's rights, said she thought the legal position was "very cruel, as that is all that wives do get—the little bits they can save from the housekeeping."

"If that is law," she said, "and interpreted as such, then the only thing is to demand wages for wives."

Dr. Edith Summerskill, M.P., said she plans to raise in the House of Commons the question of the financial status of married women and their dependence on their husbands.

"Housewives are the only workers with no payment for their labors," Dr. Summerskill complained.

dent, Miss Frances Law; recording secretary, Miss Vera Waller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E.
Searle, and treasurer, Miss Joyce Finch. Mrs. T. H. Johns was presented with a pledge pin, symbol of sponsorship.

The following committee conveners were appointed by the executive: Program, Mrs. Janet Wilson; historian, Mrs. J. Leavis; social, Miss Catherine Cameron;
war services, Miss E. Hamilton;
finance, Mrs. E. Brown; war

Mrs. L. Wardman.

Miss Dawson conducted the business period, during which tentative plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in the near future. Members were reminded to turn in their contributions for the baby shower, articles for which will be turned over to the Children's Aid. A very interesting letter was read from
Cpl. Joyce Dickson, a sorority sister now with the air force at Lethbridge, and one from Mrs.
Reed Paige Clark, wife of the retired U.S. consul and a former sponsor of Zeta Chapter. It was announced that 25 packs of playing cards have been sent to the boys overseas and still more are required. Miss Muriel Knight, war service convener, presented
Miss Barbara Dawson with her 70-hour war service pin from Beta Sigma Phi.

Two sorority sisters were guests for the evening, Mrs. R.
Cantwell from Brandon, Man., and Miss C. Munro of Gamma Chapter, Edmonton. The cultural program, conducted by Mrs. T.
H. Johns, one of the Zeta Chapter sponsors, proved to be a highlight of the year. Mrs. Johns' topic was "The Good." She outlined the good which has been done through the ages by word and action by outstanding characters chosen from the realm of philosophers, orators, writers, poets, painters, social reformers, explorers and leaders. Wherever possible Mrs. Johns had each group speak for itself through quoting passages from their works or illustrating with pictures which she obtained while visiting the art galleries of France.

Committee conveners were asked to have annual reports completed and turned in at the next meeting, which will be held Tuesday, May 25, at the home of Mrs. Johns, 2753 Somass Drive.

testant Orphanage met recently at the Memorial Hall. The party held on Easter Monday at the Home, and convened by Miss Ann Adamson, was reported a great success. Mrs. Harbord was elected to purchase material for bibs for the babies, and aprons for the older children will also be made. Five birthdays were reported for the month, and Mrs.
J. Gibson will visit the Home and distribute the gifts. The annual silver tea will be held this year at the home of Mrs. A. H. Cox,
950 Joan Crescent, with Miss Margot Hughes as convener. It is hoped that many friends interested in the work of the Home will patronize the affair. Plans for a musical program at the tea were discussed. A special meeting will be held at the home of Miss Enid Fox, 2218 Brighton
Avenue, Tuesday evening, May 18, when final arrangements will be made for this tea.

She leaves her widower, one daughter, Captain Mona G. Tomalin, C.W.A.C., and one brother, Frank J. Hutcheson of San Francisco, Calif.

The funeral will be held on Thursday, leaving Haywards' B.C.
Funeral Chapel at 1.50 for St.
Andrew's Presbyterian Church,
where services will be conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. J.

Hats Off to MOM

The Official "Mother's Day" is over and now Mother is back to "The daily round, the common task" that is the lot of most Mothers. We realize that to the ordinary trials of running a home wartime has added many new tribulations, and our hats are off to every Mother who is doing her best under difficult conditions. And because of their own difficulties we are hopeful that Mothers (and Fathers, too) may be a little lenient when we are not quite able to measure up to the high standards of service usually associated with the name "New Method." Let's all make the best of things and help one another to grin and bear it.

James Bay A.R.P. In Dress Rehearsal For When Bombs Fall

Bombing of the Parliament Buildings, an airplane crash, poison gas and hundreds of incendiaries were all taken in the stride of the city A.R.P. organization as "incidents" Tuesday night when donning gas masks, gas proof suits and tin hats air raid wardens completed a dress rehearsal for, if and when bombs fall on Victoria.

The practice, the largest in scope attempted in Victoria this year was carried out successfully, according to supervising officers, Inspector A. H. Bishop, Victoria A.R.P. controller, and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, chief warden. The A.R.P. staffs at the Parliament Buildings and the federal government buildings in Victoria joined with the James Bay A.R.P. in the practice.

St. John Ambulance Corps, Red Cross, fire and police departments, decontamination squads and motorcycle messengers co-operated with the regular A.R.P. workers in making the affair as realistic as could be imagined.

Casualties were attended by first aid workers at the scenes of the incidents and taken to A.R.P. first aid points and posts and St. Joseph's Hospital for further treatment when casualties were designated as serious. Nuns of St. Mary's Priory, directed by Sister Mary Cecilia, Mother Superior, aided in casualty treatment.

Parliament Buildings A.R.P. staffs, directed by W. S. Latta, chief air raid warden, attended an "incident" described as a delayed action incendiary bomb lodged in the corridor close to the Minister of Labor's office. The bomb exploded while firefighters were trying to put it out. Two "casualties" resulted.

In a second incident at the buildings, workers assumed a 250-pound bomb had struck the northeast corner of the building and partially wrecked the corridor outside the minister of agriculture's office. The stairway was littered with debris but passable. The telephone system in that part of the building was wrecked.

PLANE CRASH

James Bay A.R.P. workers assumed a plane had crashed at Toronto and Parry, cutting electrical and telephone wires, breaking off a water hydrant and severing a gas main.

Light mustard gas concentrations were assumed to be found on Luxton Avenue while wardens called the military to "remove" an unexploded bomb at Michigan and Oswego.

The federal buildings A.R.P. attended casualties at the Immigration building and the A.R.P. control-rooms at the post office were manned for the test directed by J. B. Shore and G. Russell.

E. L. Smith, district officer, was in charge of the test in the James Bay area.

Satisfaction with the test and the effort of the workers was expressed today by Insp. Bishop, who said there was still need for considerable practice.

Representing the City Council at the practice were Aldermen Archie Wills and J. A. Worthing.

GANGES—Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold their annual garden fete and sale in Harbor House grounds July 29. Notice was read of the annual convention of National Chapter in Edmonton May 27 to June 3. Mrs. Sprott, regent of Provincial Chapter, will represent Ganges Chapter. Mrs. Wolfe-Merton reported results of recent tag day as now amounting to $40 and she was elected convener of the projected contest on time of the blowing of whistle of Gulf Islands boat on Tuesdays during the summer. Mrs. A. J. Eaton has consented to be hospital representative, replacing Mrs. P. Lowther. Mrs. Dallas Perry read an interesting account of the recent Provincial Chapter annual meeting, for which she received a hearty vote of thanks.

The question of a postwar I.O.D.E. Memorial, initiated by National Chapter, was discussed. Adoption of a navy ship was also discussed. It was felt better to devote efforts of the chapter to hospitality and accommodation for sailors ashore.

Ladies' Aid of United Church at Ganges met in Ganges Inn, Mrs. J. Dewar presiding.

A hen rescued by an air raid warden in the ruins of a bombed building has gone all out to repay her benefactor. So far she has laid 250 eggs and was among exhibits at a "wings for victory" week at Fulham, London suburb.

The King, like a lot of other British people, has no spare coupons these days. At a big army clothing factory the manager offered to send some juvenile clothing to a charity institution the King chose. The King accepted but said he would have to obtain some clothing coupons as he didn't have any to spare.

Several hundred books from the Royal library at Windsor Castle were contributed by the King to the Windsor book salvage drive. Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret assisted in sorting the books.

Incendiary bombs, kept as souvenirs by people living in East Dulwich, London, are being voluntarily given up to authorities since one of them exploded recently.

May Come to Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Selective Service Director Arthur MacNamara said today that consultations now were being carried on with the commissioners of the Newfoundland government, through the External Affairs Department, regarding the possible transfer of Newfoundland loggers to areas in Canada suffering from a shortage of such help. Mr. MacNamara had said previously that logging, coal and base metal mining and agriculture were among the industries in which the most acute shortages of labor existed. These were given high priority ratings by the Selective Service Department. Shortages also existed in shipbuilding and munitions plants.

Newcastle, Australia, produces over a million tons of steel annually from iron ore mined in that country, much of which is being used there to build ships and war equipment.

Spectrum Discovers Rare Element, Thorium, in Sun

PASADENA—Discovery of the rare radioactive element thorium in the sun is announced by Dr. Charlotte E. Moore of the Princeton University Observatory and Dr. Arthur S. King of the spectroscopic laboratory at Mt. Wilson. The element was found to occur in the ionized state only. Although search for thorium started in 1938, the investigation was hindered by lack of suitable experimental work on the spectrum of the element in the laboratory under different conditions of temperature and magnetic field strength. When such experimental work recently became available the search was begun anew and this time was successful.

Basis for the discovery was chiefly detection of lines in the solar spectrum that matched the lines of thorium most easily produced in the laboratory and which are generally the strongest lines of an element. These are known as its ultimate lines and if they are absent it is hopeless to look for any others.

One line of thorium which stood out in strength above all others and was therefore believed to be its ultimate line coincided almost exactly with a faint unidentified line in the solar spectrum. Other strong lines of the ionized element could only be tentatively identified with solar lines. But as the very strongest line of thorium is represented so weakly in the sun the absence of the other lines is not considered surprising.

Two of the strongest lines of neutral thorium coincided with solar lines but the agreement was believed to be accidental from another line of evidence. Since sun-spots are about 1,500 degrees Centigrade cooler than the surface of the sun surrounding them, they should contain less ionized thorium and consequently more of the neutral atoms. Hence, if the lines really belonged to thorium, they should be strengthened in the spectrum of sunspots. But since the lines were not strengthened in the sunspot spectrum, the investigators were forced to reject the coincidence as accidental.

Ticket sale indicates the theatre will be well filled for tonight's show.

'Pride of Yankees' Coming to Atlas

Bill Dickey, Yankee catcher and lifelong friend and roommate of the late Lou Gehrig, plays himself in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Pride of the Yankees," coming tomorrow to the Atlas Theatre, in which Gary Cooper stars as Gehrig.

Dickey roomed with the Yankee first baseman when the American League ball team was on the road, was best man at his wedding, and was considered the great first baseman's closest friend right up to the time that Gehrig died in June, 1941.

Teresa Wright and Walter Brennan share feature billing with Babe Ruth.

'Enemy Agent' Thrilling Drama

The thrilling story of an enemy spy ring plotting the destruction of Los Angeles is the timely subject of "Enemy Agent," the Monogram drama which opens an engagement at the Rio Theatre tomorrow, with John Shelton starred and Gale Storm in the leading feminine role. Other members of the big cast are Ivan Lebedeff, William Halligan, Patsy Moran, Hans Schumm, George Travell, Herbert Rawlinson, Lyle Latell, Jack Mulhall, David Clarke and Kenneth Harlan.

Two players, indelibly linked to the work of James Hilton, the novelist, work on a Hilton story together for the first time in "Random Harvest," Hilton's haunting romance of a lost memory, now showing at the Capitol Theatre. They are Ronald Colman and Greer Garson.

"Random Harvest" sees Colman as an Englishman who loses all memory of his past during the first World War. He is befriended by a young actress, played by Miss Garson, and inspired to become a writer of ability. They marry and have a child.

Then an accident opens his mental door to his past but blanks out memory of his marriage and life after the war. He takes over his estates and becomes a powerful industrialist. The wife, main-

'Wake Island' Shown At York Tomorrow

While the screen play of "Wake Island," Paramount dramatization of the thrilling Marine stand coming tomorrow to the York Theatre, was prepared by W. R. Burnett and Frank Butler, the picture has an unusual credit line.

The credit line for the story reads, "Original story by the United States Marines." And who in this world can say "Nay!" Featured in the new film are Brian Donlevy, Robert Preston, Macdonald Carey, Albert Dekker, Walter Abel, Barbara Britton and William Bendix. "Wake Island" was filmed with the co-operation of the United States Marine Corps. John Farrow directed.

Dresses molded right to the figure are very becoming to a girl—if she has a good figure. But they also have their drawbacks, as Louise Albritton discovered during production of Universal's "Pittsburgh," in which she has a top supporting role with co-stars Marlene Dietrich, Randolph Scott and John Wayne.

Then sensational new picture, a Charles K. Feldman Production, directed by Lewis Seiler, is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

One sequence called for Louise to wear a very tight fitting—and rather daring—evening gown. The actress immediately fell in love with the gown—until the day came for her to don it. Then, because the dress was molded to her so perfectly, she did not dare eat any breakfast and had to consume lunch on the installment plan—half at noon and the other half in midafternoon.

CADET THEATRE

"Captains of the Clouds," the new Technicolor picture at the Cadet Theatre, tells the glorious story of the Royal Canadian Air Force. James Cagney is starred and George Tobias and Alan Hale are featured.

DOMINION THEATRE

John Stahl, noted director of such film triumphs as "Back Street" and "Magnificent Obsession," directed 20th Century-Fox's thrilling picture version of John Brophy's "Immortal Sergeant," which is currently at the Dominion Theatre. Starred are Henry Fonda and Maureen O'Hara.

Navy Men Honored at Investiture

In the presence of young cadets and high ranking naval officers, His Excellency the Governor-General Tuesday afternoon at the naval college at Royal Roads pinned medals for bravery and meritorious service in this war on five men of the Canadian navy.

To Shipwright Commander Charles Henry Brown, R.C.N.; Lt.-Cmdr. (E) Alfred Borden Arnison, R.C.N.R.; Lieut. (E) Reginald Jas. LaCouvée, R.C.N.R.; and Warrant Writer L. D. Hall, R.C.N., went the insignia of an officer (military division) of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire and to Chief Stoker David Anthony Williams, R.C.N., the Distinguished Service Medal. Commodore W. J. R. Beech, R.C.N., commanding officer, Pacific coast, read the citations, as follows: Cmdr. Brown—"For excellent work in the organization of the shipwright branch and wholehearted devotion to duty during 32 years' service in the Royal Canadian Navy." Lt.-Cmdr. Arnison—"For outstanding and meritorious service while serving at sea." Lieut. LaCouvée—"For unremitting zeal and devotion in the performance of his duties." Warrant Writer Hall—"For continuously excellent service in training personnel of the accountant branch of the Royal Canadian Navy during a period of tremendous expansion." Chief Stoker Williams—"For bravery, resourcefulness and devotion to duty before the enemy."

ON PARADE GROUND

The investiture was held on the parade ground. His Excellency returned the salute of each of the honored men and shook hands in congratulation.

The Governor-General was met on arrival beneath the porte cochère of the former Dunsmuir mansion by Commodore Beech, Lt.-Cmdr. G. Huntley Davidson, R.C.N., executive officer of the college, acting for the commanding officer, Capt. J. M. Grant, who is in England; Cmdr. K. G. B. Ketchum, R.C.N.V.R., director of studies; Lieut. Chas. McGibbon, R.C.N.V.R., was A.D.C. to the Earl of Athlone, and A.D.C.'s to the Earl of Athlone were Capt. Massey Golden, R.C.N., naval officer in charge at Esquimalt, and Capt. Alan Leveson-Gower, Coldstream Guards. Sir Shuldham Redfern, private secretary to the Governor-General, was in attendance.

His Excellency stood at attention as a cadet bugler played the alert and the vice-regal standard was broken out atop the Norman tower of stone. He then inspected the smart guard of seamen, composed of members of the ship's company, under Lieut. Gillespie, before passing to the terrace facing the sea where members of the staff were presented to their commander-in-chief.

His Excellency, accompanied by Lieut. Rowland, gunnery officer, inspected the cadets, drawn up rigidly at attention on the parade ground. He spoke with each man and then, from the reviewing stand, saw the march past.

After an inspection of the magnificent new building, now nearing completion on a hill behind the main edifice, His Excellency had tea with the officers and then returned to Government House.

The Governor-General saw the beautiful gardens, now a mass of spring bloom. He paused a moment to look at the Italian garden, gay and perfumed with quantities of wallflowers and flowering shrubs.

Major Steele has returned to Canada in an exchange of officers and has been appointed supervisor of war services for the Salvation Army in Canada.

Navy Men Honored at Investiture

In the presence of young cadets and high ranking naval officers, His Excellency the Governor-General Tuesday afternoon at the naval college at Royal Roads pinned medals for bravery and meritorious service, in this war on five men of the Canadian navy.

To Shipwright Commander Charles Henry Brown, R.C.N.; Lt.-Cmdr. (E) Alfred Borden Arnison, R.C.N.R.; Lieut. (E) Reginald Jas. LaCouvée, R.C.N.R., and Warrant Writer L. D. Hall, R.C.N., went the insignia of an officer (military division) of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire and to Chief Stoker David Anthony Williams, R.C.N., the Distinguished Service Medal. Commodore W. J. R. Beech, R.C.N., commanding officer, Pacific coast, read the citations, as follows: Cmdr. Brown—"For excellent work in the organization of the shipwright branch and wholehearted devotion to duty during 32 years' service in the Royal Canadian Navy." Lt.-Cmdr. Arnison—"For outstanding and meritorious service while serving at sea." Lieut. LaCouvée—"For unremitting zeal and devotion in the performance of his duties." Warrant Writer Hall—"For continuously excellent service in training personnel of the accountant branch of the Royal Canadian Navy during a period of tremendous expansion." Chief Stoker Williams—"For bravery, resourcefulness and devotion to duty before the enemy."

ON PARADE GROUND

The investiture was held on the parade ground. His Excellency returned the salute of each of the honored men and shook hands in congratulation.

The Governor-General was met on arrival beneath the porte cochère of the former Dunsmuir mansion by Commodore Beech, Lt.-Cmdr. G. Huntley Davidson, R.C.N., executive officer of the college, acting for the commanding officer, Capt. J. M. Grant, who is in England; Cmdr. K. G. B. Ketchum, R.C.N.V.R., director of studies; Lieut. Chas. McGibbon, R.C.N.V.R., was A.D.C. to Commander Beech, and A.D.C.'s to the Earl of Athlone were Capt. Massey Golden, R.C.N., naval officer in charge at Esquimalt, and Capt. Alan Leveson-Gower, Coldstream Guards, Sir Shuldham Redfern, private secretary to the Governor-General, was in attendance.

His Excellency stood at attention as a cadet bugler played the alert and the vice-regal standard was broken out atop the Norman tower of stone. He then inspected the smart guard of seamen, composed of members of the ship's company, under Lieut. Gillespie, before passing to the terrace facing the sea where members of the staff were presented to their commander-in-chief.

His Excellency, accompanied by Lieut. Rowland, gunnery officer, inspected the cadets, drawn up rigidly at attention on the parade ground. He spoke with each man and then, from the reviewing stand, saw the march past.

After an inspection of the magnificent new building, now nearing completion on a hill behind the main edifice, His Excellency had tea with the officers and then returned to Government House.

The Earl of Athlone is greeted by Lt.-Cmdr. G. Huntley Davidson, R.C.N., acting commanding officer of the naval college, and Commodore W. J. R. Beech, commanding officer, Pacific Coast, R.C.N.

The Governor-General inspected the cadets at Royal Roads. Immediately behind him is Lieut. J. N. Rowland, gunnery officer, who was in charge.

Canadians Anxious To Finish the Job

EDMONTON (CP)—Canadian forces in the British Isles are high in morale and anxious to get into the fight and "finish the job," Major John Steele, Salvation Army auxiliary officer, said in an interview. He has just arrived here after spending two and a half years overseas. He mentioned particularly soldiers of the Canadian Forestry Corps working in the lumber camp of Scotland, producing many thousands of feet of lumber for use in the British Isles, and said they were "doing a magnificent job."

Major Steele has returned to Canada in an exchange of officers and has been appointed supervisor of war services for the Salvation Army in Canada.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

BEFORE the close of the current baseball season don't be surprised if the Eagles become known as the "Old Men of the Mountains." We heard Monday night that Jack Bacon will turn out for the lodges on their next appearance and hold down the second-base position. Bacon will thus join those other two veterans, catcher Bill Bridgwood and outfielder Bert Nex. We understand Bridgwood boasts 38 summers and Nex one less.

When he stepped in behind the plate to open Monday night's game Bridgwood expected every minute to be touched on the shoulder and asked to "pay off." It seems that Bill made a bet at the end of last season that he would never catch another ball game. However, when the Eagles found themselves without a capable backstop the ever-young Bridgwood agreed to don the big mitt and pads again. When he threw out an Army player trying to steal second Bridgwood was happy as a schoolboy. "Guess my arm must have taken another lease on life," he remarked with a smile. "That's the best throw I've made in years."

Doug Peden, big first sacker of the Army, did some fast thinking when he faked possession of the ball to hold Bridgwood on second base after a wild heave to the initial sack. Peden made a scoop and ran towards second base faking a throw. Bridgwood held fast and before he realized his mistake another Army player had retrieved the ball. If the Eagles' coaching staff had been on the job the play could have backfired.

Everybody remembers Benny Leonard as the retired undefeated lightweight champion and one of the smartest scrappers in the history of the prize ring. Now it is Lieut. Leonard of the United States Maritime Service. He is in charge of physical instruction and recreation at a big training base. In a recent interview Leonard gives an interesting description of just how a fighter feels on the verge of being knocked out.

"It's a terrible feeling to be on the verge of a knockout. It's almost like a man drowning. So many thoughts can flash through your mind in nine seconds. I saw my title floating away. I thought of my friends who had bet on me. I thought of my mother—I was the original mama's boy, you know. I thought of a hundred and one things. Most of all I thought how clear my head was and wondered if my legs would hold me up when I arose. I took the full count of nine and I'd have taken 49, if they'd have given them to me."

Benny loves the sport of boxing with an intense and abiding passion. He's happy in his new job of teaching the art of fist-cuffing to the boys in service. "The hold that boxing has taken on servicemen is amazing," said the lieutenant. "I've been to all sorts of camps and I know. All our champions of the future will come from men now with the colors and my guess is that the majority will come from the Maritime Service."

He paused for a moment and continued earnestly: "I've made over $1,000,000 from boxing and, even if I never made a cent from it, I'd be thankful to the sport for what it's done for me. It's given me a strong body, a world of friends and what little education I've had."

V.M.D., Flyers in Baseball Battle To Decide First

Tonight's senior ball game, at Athletic Park, will see the champion Victoria Machinery Depot and R.C.A.F. Flyers fight it out for undisputed possession of first place. Starting time is 6:15. Each club has made one start and scored a win. Flyers turned back the Army in a free-scoring game Saturday while the V.M.D. edged out the Navy. Winner tonight will take command while the loser will drop into second spot along with the Army.

V.M.D. have a choice of three hurlers for tonight, Tommy Musgrave, Cy Shillito or Dixon, the last-named being a new addition to the mound corps. Peters is the probable starting hurler for the airmen.

Washington Breeders Seek Racing Meet

SEATTLE (AP)—The Washington Thoroughbred Breeders' Association continued Tuesday night to press for a reconsideration of a recent decision against allowing racing dates for the Longacres track.

George Newell and Earl Barbour, both of Seattle, were added to a five-man committee which will seek another conference with Governor Langlie, to insist that the governor appoint a breeder to the racing commission and that three-man body then reconsider the Longacres question.

At an association meeting night before last, Joseph Gottstein, president of the Washington Jockey Club, offered to operate Longacres for the 1943 season, with the proviso that all profits go to war relief agencies.

Honor Hockey Champs

WINNIPEG (CP)—More than 250 persons attended a civic banquet Tuesday night in honor of Winnipeg Rangers, Dominion junior hockey champions, at which trophies and awards were presented.

Mayor Garnet Coulter, on behalf of the city, gave each of the players who helped down Oshawa Generals in the Memorial Cup series, a ring.

A. E. H. Coe presented the players with wrist watches from the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association, and W. R. (Toby) Sexsmith of Portage la Prairie, Man., gave them gold medals from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Premier-Stuart S. Garson of Manitoba congratulated the team on its victory.

Seek Third Entry For Lacrosse Loop

With the hope of securing a third entry from the services for the senior league, the entry date for teams in the Victoria Lacrosse Association was left open for another week by league officials at a meeting Tuesday night.

R.C.A.F. and Victoria Dodgers, a civilian club, are set to participate in the senior circuit. Work-outs have been held regularly, and managers of both clubs are ready to open play. It is hoped to open the season in two weeks.

Jokers, last season's provincial juvenile A champions; Douglas Tire, Owl Drug and James Bay have minor league teams ready for action, and reports have it that two additional clubs are being organized.

Stevenson Memorial Park will be the home ground for all important fixtures, Doug Fletcher, secretary, announced last night. Plans to have the box properly set up and bleachers erected are being considered.

Cage Champs Welcomed

Victoria R.C.A.F. Gremlins, winner of the Canadian senior men's basketball championship, returned home Tuesday afternoon from Vancouver. Above Mayor Andrew McGavin extends congratulations to P.O. Charlie McLachlin, manager of the team. Seen holding the massive Montreal Sportsman's Trophy is Norm Baker, scoring star of the series. Baker set up a record for the national series by scoring 37 points in the opening game against Windsor Patricks.

Fine tribute was paid to the new Canadian basketball champions, R.C.A.F. Gremlins, Tuesday by Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson, A.O.C., Western Air Command.

"Nice going, fellows. You are a credit to the Royal Canadian Air Force" was Stevenson's greeting to the lads who triumphed over Windsor Patricks in three straight games. Others on hand to meet the champions were Aldermen Duncan McTavish and W. H. Davies; Filt, Lieut. C. G. Higman, sports officer, R.C.A.F., and relatives and friends of the players.

Sergeant Piper Mona Mayhew of the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band and a niece of R. W. Mayhew, M.P., piped the party off the boat.

Alderman McTavish announced that plans have been made for the entertainment of the members of the team by the city of Victoria in recognition of their winning the Canadian title. The function will be held on Thursday, May 20, when a presentation will be made to each of the players, their trainer and coach.

27 Consecutive Years of Hockey Kennedy Loses Eye

By CHARLES EDWARDS
TORONTO (CP)—One of Canada's most amazing hockey careers apparently is ended. After 27 consecutive years in senior and intermediate hockey, Waldon Kennedy has lost an eye in an accident at his Kentville, N.S., home. Maybe he could still go for years but the loss of an eye is a blow to even the most durable athletes. Two steel splinters pierced his right eye ball while he worked as a machinist. The eye was removed in hospital.

Waldon broke into senior hockey with Wolfville in the Nova Scotia Valley League when he was 16 and led the league in scoring his first season. In 1922 he moved to the Kentville Wildcats and, except for a brief period with Halifax Wolverines and one season with Wolfville, has been with the Wildcats ever since.

A left winger, he packed one of the hardest shots in the Maritimes. Year after year he was the Wildcats' high scorer and he still holds the valley league record of 72 points. He played with many league championship teams but reached the Maritimes title only once—in 1927 when Kentville took the crown.

Kennedy was a senior player until two years ago when the Wildcats, weakened by player losses, reverted to intermediate ranks.

ROUND AND ABOUT

The western racing season gets under way at Calgary Saturday. One of the thoroughbreds in training there is Magnito Line, which won the Canadian Derby at Winnipeg last July 1—the race in which Ten-to-Ace, the King's Plate winner, was last by 20 lengths. . . Lions Club members sold hockey programs in Kingston, Ont., during the past winter and the $438 proceeds went into the club's fund for British bomb victims.

Incidentally: Three former Canadian championship basketball stars are entered for the New Westminster, B.C., city golf tournament May 23. The three, Dick Butler, Wally Mayers and Ted McEwen, were with the University of British Columbia national cage champions of 1928. . . When the Kitchener, Ont., Westmount Golf Club decided to dispense with services of a professional this year, Normie Himes was left without a summer job. Himes, former New York Americans hockey star, will remain at his Galt home, assisting his brother, George, in their tobacco business.

HOCKEY VETERAN ILL.
KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—George Patterson, veteran of 17 years' professional hockey, is in serious condition in hospital here. Doctors have not yet diagnosed the cause of his strange ailment. Patterson collected 50 scoring points last winter, and finished the season with Indianapolis in the finals, transferring to them from New Haven in midseason.

Intersection Games Interest

Major Ball Favorites Show Little

Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals in the National League and New York Rangers and Cleveland Indians in the American have established themselves as pennant possibilities. But they were rated as such before the season started, and nothing they have done in their early games has been particularly distinguishing.

For this reason the start of east-west play today in the two circuits was looked forward to eagerly. The western clubs seem to hold the balance of power in both leagues.

The Yankees have a good chance of holding their two-game lead in the front rank.

New York's road trip will be opened against the weakening White Sox at Chicago, which should help the Yanks because the Indians will be on the defensive against a strong, fourth-place Washington club. They play a night game tonight.

Boston Red Sox open at St. Louis today and Philadelphia Athletics will be at Detroit.

In the National League Brooklyn and St. Louis will be up against about equal opposition for the start of the intersection struggle, the Dodgers playing Pittsburgh Pirates in a twilight game and the Cardinals invading Boston.

Although leading the league by two games, Brooklyn is not as far in front as its admirers had predicted.

The Cardinals have had the expected bitter battles with their western rivals, Chicago and Cincinnati. Now, for the first time they will be meeting the kind of opposition previously faced by Brooklyn.

Cincinnati Reds, still an unknown quantity, open their eastern junket at Philadelphia and Chicago Cubs visit New York Giants at the Polo Grounds.

COAST LEAGUE

The Los Angeles Angels, heading straight for the stratosphere, stretched their lead in the Coast League to six full games today after routing Seattle 13 to 0 in a series opener.

Hot and hard to handle, the Angels ran up their 12th consecutive win by smashing the offerings of three Seattle pitchers for 16 bingles, while Jim Lynn held the Rainiers to three hits.

Oakland clattered into third place with a 5 to 4 win over San Diego, while Portland wrote finis to a seven game losing streak by shutting out the San Francisco Seals 1 to 0.

The Hollywood Stars thrust Sacramento deeper into the cellar with an 8 to 3 victory in the opening game of their series.

Owing to wet grounds Tuesday night's scheduled opening game in senior A men's softball between the R.C.A.F. and Army was called off.

Earle Mack Will Manage Athletics When Connie Quits

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Connie Mack confirmed Tuesday that his second son and heir apparent, Earle Mack, will succeed him as manager of Philadelphia Athletics "when I retire"—if ever.

The 80-year-old baseball dean, who never before had commented publicly on expectations that his assistant manager would inherit his job, told reporters: "Earle is going to be the next manager of the Athletics, if they ever have one, and he'll probably do a better job than I did."

His comment, he said, does not mean that he is thinking of stepping down.

Earle, 51, learned the game at Connie's knee and has been his father's understudy since 1924, when he joined the A's as assistant manager after 13 years as a player and manager in the Three-I and Blue Ridge Leagues and the old Carolina Association.

While managing in the minors he won four pennants and discovered—and sent to his dad—such stars as Cy Perkins, Fred Helmech and Jimmy Dykes. He himself never was popularly considered a great ball player although his father, commenting Tuesday, said "he played first base as well as anyone and hit pretty well."

PIGEON RACING

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its second old bird race of the season recently from Chilliwack, an airline distance of 80 miles. The birds encountered a stiff wind en route which slowed down the velocities from the previous week. There were 172 birds from 19 lofts liberated.

MARS

STILL TAKES OUR BICYCLE MATERIAL

BLOOD-THIRSTY, steel-thirsty Mars, God of War, continues to thrust his grasping mailed fist into our steel bins and to toss our bicycle materials into the maw of war.

Guess we'll have to let him do so for awhile yet until we "finish the job".

We are, however, able to make a few bicycles. Our war-time models lack the glamorous color and bright appearance of C.C.M. peace-time models but they are durable, comfortable, easy-running bicycles nevertheless.

If you are in war work and could use a bicycle to travel to and from your "battle station" it is possible one of our C.C.M. dealers may be able to procure one for you. Or, if you have an inactive bicycle in your household get it into active service by selling it to your C.C.M. dealer, who will see that a war-worker or other qualified purchaser gets it.

Bicycle Purchase Application form may be filled in at any Bicycle Dealer's store.

In order that C.C.M. bicycles may be kept in good repair, C.C.M. are maintaining the best possible service on genuine C.C.M. parts and safety accessories by apportioning their available stocks to the 2,300 C.C.M. dealers across Canada. Stevens Speaks Of 'Fifth Freedom'

If the people of the North American continent do not place human and spiritual values ahead of material interests after the war, the country will know greater chaos than ever before, Hon. H. H. Stevens of Vancouver, told members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

The luncheon provided an inter-club visit between Victoria Kiwanians and nearly 30 members of the Vancouver club, some of whom came to compete in the first round matches for the Heath-Nicholson Golf Trophy. Tuesday, Vancouver Kiwanis was in charge of the program.

"Behind the four freedoms lies what I term the fifth freedom, the freedom of choice," Mr. Stevens stated. "Today Canada asks the loan of a portion of the wages of its citizens—to me it is a demonstration of the very essence of democratic institution. Men can refuse or they can lend, the choice is theirs."

Throughout his address he emphasized the need for people to give primacy to spiritual and human rather than material values, declaring that they have the choice of either applying the Golden Rule to all undertakings or of following the "grasping" method of self-interest.

Turning to the story of Joshua and his people, Mr. Stevens told how prosperity had brought a loosening of morals and slackening of responsibility, and quoted Joshua saying: "Now, therefore, fear the Lord and serve Him in sincerity and truth and put away the false gods among you."

"We have been following false gods in the last 20 years. Think of the 1920's and 30's—because we departed from earlier principles of democratic leaders, there was suffering," he said, adding that the country was now facing a testing time and if the people did not stay by principles known to be tried and true the country would have chaos after the war.

An amusing skit was presented by Eric Vale of Vancouver Kiwanis. Frank Chenoweth was sing-song leader, and Lew Worsley master of ceremonies. Murry Martindale was in the chair. Cecil Heaton was pianist.

Prof. E. S. Farr Sees Greater Security

Economics and other social sciences having become of age, Prof. E. S. Farr of Victoria College told the Credit Granters of Victoria Tuesday the postwar world would probably see radical changes in economic policy.

"In the old world we moved ahead by trial and error and individual effort," he said. "That has changed. Today we are pooling our information. We're adding to the heap. We are therefore probably going to end the period of the 'robber barons,' and enter perhaps a period of greater security."

Mr. Farr said the engineering sciences had run away from the people, but he believed the social sciences would catch up with the exact sciences in the postwar era.

"Universities are not an ivory tower where persons are shut off from the world," he said. "The economists are here to assist. They are assisting."

He said the foremost government economists were formerly university men, and the government heads were listening to these economists. He said Finance Minister Isley could not have raised the money for war without the help of the so-called braintrusts, and drew attention to the postwar security and employment and money plans as the work of university economists.

"What I'm advocating strongly is the integration of the economics of the university with the economics of the business world," he said.

He outlined in detail the expansion of economic study during the past 25 years, contrasting his own university experience with the curriculum of Stanford University today.

Guests at the luncheon were 22 women students of the association's credit class, who received their diplomas.

March Strike Loss 30,683 Man-Days

OTTAWA (CP).—Increased lost time through strikes and lockouts in March as compared with February is reported by the Labor Department, but the number of strikes was smaller.

The March figures showed 28 strikes involving 17,008 workers with a loss of 30,683 man-working days as compared with 32 strikes in February involving 5,243 workers with a loss of 24,306 man-working days. In March, 1942, there were 18 strikes which involved 3,770 workers with a time loss of 23,191 man-working days.

Call up the reserves!

The attack must not fail

AS THE CLIMAX of a battle approaches, it is often necessary to "call up the reserves."

Fresh troops, extra support, renewed effort, are needed to clinch the victory.

Such a moment as this has arrived in Canada's 4th Victory Loan Campaign. There are only 3 more days in which to go "over the top."

The bugle is calling up those "reserve dollars." They are needed to make victory sure.

Are YOU confident you've done ALL you can? Or are you holding something in "reserve"?

The reserves are needed now. The bugle is calling YOU!

If there is some way you can buy a bond... or ANOTHER bond... by pledging future earnings, by getting your bank to help, by tightening your belt a little more... as the boys "over there" must tighten theirs when the bugle sounds... do it NOW!

Over there, where failure means death, they're watching us. We mustn't let them down.

Bring up the reserves! If you haven't bought a Bond, buy one NOW. If you have already bought, buy AGAIN.

Let's go OVER the top!

Important Matters To Be Discussed In Ottawa By Hart

B.C. problems, as affected by Ottawa, will be discussed in the national capital next week by Premier John Hart, who left here today for the east.

"Matters of vital importance to northern development will be discussed with cabinet ministers," said a press statement from the Premier's office. "Among matters to come under review will be oil development, Alaska Highway connections, taxation matters as they affect provincial rights in relationship to the operation of U.S. projects in Canada and old age pensions."

Some of these matters, it was said, will be discussed at the specific request of federal authorities, while others will be taken up by Mr. Hart on his own initiative.

En route through British Columbia the Premier will stop at Revelstoke and confer with J. McKinnon, coalitionist candidate in the June 14 Revelstoke by-election, and he will also see other members of the Legislature.

Taxation matters affecting provincial rights in relationship to U.S. project in Canada will be thoroughly discussed. While nothing official has been released, it is known much timber has been cut by contractors on the Alaska Highway without permits. A considerable amount of timber was also destroyed by fire last year, and it is believed Mr. Hart will insist that proper precautions be taken to safeguard B.C.'s forest wealth.

The oil discussion is bound to be important. Mr. Hart, it is understood, will insist, whether the Dominion or private companies proceed with drilling in the Peace River country, that royalties be waived only for the war's duration.

Free Mine Certificates Must Be Renewed

The Department of Mines today drew to the attention of all mining interests that renewal of free miners' certificates must be made by May 31 next.

All certificates representing property held under the "Mineral Act" and the "Placer-mining Act," must be renewed, as must also certificates of the owners of properties held pursuant to the terms of the "Free Miners' Exemption Act."

Praised for Work By Gov.-General

His Excellency, Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada today paid an informal visit to the big salvage barn at Cloverdale, saw men and women in their old clothes hard at work and commended the committee for the splendid job being done for Canada's war effort.

As he stepped from his car His Excellency was welcomed by Miss Sara Spencer, president of the salvage organization. Presented to him as he toured the building under escort of Cmdr. J. H. Hinecks, barn manager were A. H. Pease, hon. manager; G. Hamilton Harman, hon. president; Oliver M. Prentice, S. J. D. Clark, Lionel E. Taylor, Les Freer, H. Pott, Miss Dorothy Austin and Rev. H. P. Davidson of Qualicum Beach.

His Excellency watched men and women piling metal, tearing old newspapers and magazines apart and then tie them into neat bundles for shipment. He asked many questions and expressed amazement at the tremendous amount of work carried on by so many volunteer workers of all ages. He paused a few minutes to talk with three women working in one of the salvage trucks. He was attended by his private secretary, Sir Shuldham Redfern.

Returning to Government House for luncheon His Excellency and H.R.H. Princess Alice left on the afternoon steamer for Vancouver where they will remain until Monday before starting their return journey to Ottawa.

Chinese Consul Will Join in Celebration

Chow, Yang-hsi, consul-general of Vancouver, will be guest of honor tonight before a large rally at the Victory Loan booth in Chinatown. The consul came over from the mainland, accompanied by his accomplished wife, Madame Chow, Tuesday on behalf of the Fourth Victory Loan.

National war finance officials will attend the celebration at which the Chinese consul will address his countrymen. The Victoria Boys' Band will start the evening entertainment at 7.30, after which "One Day of War" and other films will be shown. Later, national refreshments will be served at the Chinese Musical Club.

Subscriptions will be sold between 7 and 9 at the Victory Loan booth, as the Chinese community is bending every effort to meet its quota in the drive.

A Portway will accompany the Chinese loan committee when they travel to Leech River Thursday to obtain bond subscriptions from the Chinese working at Cameron Logging Co. During the Third Victory Loan 100 per cent of the Chinese loggers contributed, due in part to the encouragement and energy of Chu-sing-hor, who is in charge of bond sales again this year.

Books and Magazines Needed for Troops

When men are out to sea, or stationed at lonely outposts for weeks, and sometimes months, at a time, books and magazines form one of their chief off-duty pastimes, and Victoria citizens will shortly be asked to contribute to a new book and magazine drive, A. H. Pease of the Salvage Corps of B.C. stated today.

Last year 1,600,000 periodicals were collected, or brought to the various headquarters and Boy Scout groups, who participated in the January drive, will once more serve as collectors.

Anyone wishing to donate books and magazines may take them to Salvage Corps office, 1220 Government, Miss E. Reimer, 714 View, or Mrs. J. Quinn, 1331 Esquimalt Road.

Mrs. Quinn, magazine convener of the Municipal Chapter I.O. D.E., handles all material for the merchant marine and navy vessels leaving port, according to the salvage office. Salvage trucks will pick up any donations from householders, along with regular salvage.

Woman Hurt April 26 When Car, Streetcar In Collision, Dies

Injured when the car her husband was driving and a Gorge streetcar were in collision April 26 at Craigflower and Rayner, Mrs. Madeline McKay, 45, of 440 Griffiths Street, died at Royal Jubilee Hospital today.

Mrs. McKay, who was pinned in the light milk truck which was carried 93 feet by the streetcar, suffered internal injuries in the accident. Her husband, Joseph McKay, who suffered concussion and other head injuries, was released from hospital Monday.

This accident brings to two the persons killed in traffic accidents in Victoria this year, and to three the fatal traffic accidents of Greater Victoria area in 1943.

Police records show McKay was driving east on Rayner and turning onto Craigflower, and the streetcar, operated by Harold Hanson, 3213 Doncaster, was proceeding south on Craigflower.

The truck, pinned under the front of the streetcar, was almost demolished.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, was informed of the death today. Inquest arrangements are pending. Mrs. McKay was a native of France. Her husband met her overseas in the last war and she came to Victoria to become his bride. Only known survivor besides her husband is her mother, who lives in Victoria.

Mr. McKay for some years has operated a dairy business at Tillicum and Maddock.

More Victorians Succeed at U.B.C.

Paul Parizeau gained his M.A., majoring in zoology, with biology and botany as minors. His thesis was "An Investigation of the Interrelation of Growth and Regeneration."

John Pickford passed in forestry. A correction in early results was made today to the effect Joyce Dalziel, listed in the original announcement as carrying a supplemental, secured a second-class pass for her B.A.

Story Now Told How Norse Teachers Tortured By Nazis

LONDON (CP)—Herded into a bitter existence of forced labor, Norwegian school teachers never faltered in their refusal to bow to the Nazi doctrine, the Norwegian government in London said today in issuing the first full eyewitness account of a German action that shocked the Allied world.

Written by one of 500 teachers arrested in March, 1942, because they refused to join the Nazi "teachers' front" and instill German teachings into the minds of Norwegian children, the account told of brutal treatment and intensive suffering during which disease was rampant and some of the prisoners died or went insane.

The teachers were released from the labor camps last November and returned home, their spirit unbroken, after eight months of exile. There was a trip in a "hell ship," and they endured the starvation diet and long hours in icy barracks of northern Norway far beyond the Arctic Circle. Then, too, there were gymnastics in the snow while below-zero winds tore at flimsy clothing.

The sea voyage lasted 17 days. The teachers were kicked into the holds, one on top of the other. Space was cramped. Food was nonexistent, medical attention forgotten. There was no ventilation and many became hysterical. One elderly teacher went insane. At Trondheim, the Red Cross brought porridge and milk and the account said "we were so hungry we ate like pigs while the Germans stood laughing at us."

Czech President Visits Washington; Coming to Canada

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia was expected to arrive here late today to discuss with President Roosevelt postwar world plans that would call for close collaboration between Soviet Russia and a federation of European nations. He will visit Canada after leaving the United States.

The schedule called for him to go to the White House for a state dinner in his honor as chief of one of the United Nations. It is his first visit to Washington since he fled the London-Quadrant Czechoslovak government, although he was in the United States in a private capacity in 1939.

Political significance of his trip is stressed by two points on his schedule, when he is expected to: 1. Present to President Roosevelt his plan for a postwar federation of central and eastern Europe; friendly to Soviet Russia. 2. Attempt, on a visit to Chicago and other centres of Czech and Slovak settlement, to dispel some opposition which has developed over his government's friendly relations with Russia.

The Czechoslovak government some time ago began to lay the groundwork for a possible confederation with Poland, which was to include Yugoslavia, Greece, Austria, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria. But Dr. Jan Papanek, director of the Czechoslovak information service, disclosed that even Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Greece were not in complete agreement on some of the basic principles involved.

Dr. Benes is expected to proceed to Moscow, after his visit to Canada. It is assumed here that he will discuss the Polish-Soviet problem and his federation plan with Premier Stalin.

Land Army Wants 2,000 Workers By Middle of June

A land army of 2,000 by June 15 is the immediate objective of the recently-established Emergency Farm Labor Service, C. M. Smith, manager, said today.

Mr. Smith spent a busy morning conferring with officials of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, Miss Bertha Rogers, recently-arrived supervisor of the women's division at Vancouver, and Ernest Evans, director of publicity, discussing ways and means of arousing public interest to provide sufficient labor to ensure harvesting of the current season's crop.

As the service today counted in the tens and dozens the number of applications received since the office opened a little more than a week ago, Mr. Smith surveyed the needs of farmers in this district which are placed at thousands of helpers for the on-rushing season.

While expressing satisfaction at the interest that has been shown in the service since its office was set up 10 days ago at 909 Government Street, Mr. Smith said, "Nevertheless we are certainly going to need greater realization of the part of every able-bodied woman and every boy and girl over the ages of 15 and 16, that the creation of this land army during the current growing season is their responsibility."

Mr. Smith said, "To date the greatest interest seems to be shown by young boys and girls, many of them even under the specified ages."

Mr. Smith said, however, that because the need is urgent, and because the service is anxious to make the utmost use of whatever labor is available, there is a possibility that the age regulations will be altered.

"Every man, woman, boy and girl can be 'in the field' this year," said Mr. Smith. "Farmers have done their utmost during the past few weeks, and have planted and seeded in good faith, on promises that sufficient help to harvest their crops would be available. To be sure, the acreage is down. Down 15 per cent all over Canada because of absence of harvest help last year and this spring. But if we don't want to see the production of food decreased even more next year it is up to all of us now to see that help is given the farmer when he wants it."

"The call goes out now," said Mr. Smith. "Go out to every man, woman and boy or girl to contribute what help they can." Urging urban dwellers to realize the problem and take up their responsibility, Mr. Smith said, "perhaps those otherwise regularly employed might even go out during their holidays, or over the week-ends. Even a week, a weekend or a day helps. Every pound of food saved helps bring victory that much closer."

Mr. Smith said that the first call will be for strawberry, loganberry and pea pickers, starting about June 10, and continuing then all through the summer. All workers will be paid standard wages, and application forms for both farmers needing help, and for volunteers, are available at the Emergency Farm Labor Service, 909 Government Street.

Soldier Gets 3 Months On 5 Theft Charges

Convicted on a fifth charge, of retaining a stolen wrist watch, Pte. Anton Klatz, R.C.A.S.C., was sentenced to a total of three months' hard labor when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall today.

On each of four charges of theft and retaining stolen goods, Pte. Klatz was sentenced to three months, the terms being made concurrent.

For applying for a second liquor license he was fined $50 or in default one month, this term being concurrent with the theft sentences.

Pte. Klatz was found guilty today of retaining a watch the property of David McKenzie, 1008 Newport Avenue, which McKenzie said was stolen about a month ago. When searched at police office Klatz had four watches.

Evidence was given by Detective Louis Caldon and Constable Robert Davidson.

Soft Heart Hardens, Want Tenant Out

"We're very sorry we let these people in. How can we get them out?" a landlady asked Judge H. H. Shandley in rent court today. "We took them in out of the softness of our hearts."

"And now your heart's hardened?" the judge queried. "Yes," the landlady replied. She said the accommodation had been found in her own home but that beer parties and "tiresome children all over the place," had made her regret the action. She was told to consult a lawyer. The tenant's application for a rent of $40 a month to $25 was allowed, the judge explaining the premises had been inspected.

The landlady and her tenant left the courtroom arguing, the tenant protesting loudly against allegations of beer parties. During the session Judge Shandley indicated no rental increases would be approved in cases where improvements paid for by the city made premises more desirable. That was announced as an agent sought permission to boost rent on a Smith's Hill dwelling on the grounds new water pressure there had actually enhanced the value of the house. Rents had previously been too low owing to inadequate pressure, he said.

The judge also declined approval of a lease granting the tenant a month's rebate if he accepted the premises for a year, but allowed an increase for sublet premises when informed the original tenant was leaving expensive furniture in the home for the person sub-letting.

Damages totaling $15 was done to Belmont Church, R. P. Knott, caretaker, told city police Tuesday night. Police found three gas stoves had been damaged and chairs and books thrown around. The juvenile police officer is investigating.

General Public Asked to Speed Up 4th Victory Loan

OTTAWA (CP) — Announcement by Fourth Victory Loan headquarters that total subscriptions have reach $885,302,350 in the three-week drive for $1,100,000,000 which will end next Saturday was accompanied today by an official appeal for a speed-up in subscriptions from the general public.

G. W. Spinney, chairman of the National War Finance Committee, said that "we require at least $100,000,000 more over the next four days" from general savings if the $500,000,000 objective from that field is to be attained.

"It means that for four days in a row we must average from general canvass alone some $25,000,000 a day," he said.

"Twenty-five million dollars a day is not beyond the capacity of Canadians in all walks of life once they set themselves sternly to the task."

"I am satisfied that when they really know the need—as they will know it from these words—they will rally just as they have done in every loan before and fully subscribe this $500,000,000 aim."

"I am confident the people of this nation will never permit it to be said they failed their fighting men in the face of offensive battle."

APPEAL TO CITIZENS

The principal worry in the loan campaign was the total subscribed by the average citizens as individuals. He said it "looks quite definitely" as if the total of corporate and special names' subscriptions would "probably exceed its $600,000,000 goal."

Today's statement from loan headquarters set Tuesday's subscriptions to the loan at $64,399,950, showing a stronger tendency than on Monday.

The cumulative total of $885,302,350 for the first 14 business days of the three-week drive compared with $661,281,700 at the same point in the Third Victory Loan last autumn, but the objective then was only $750,000,000.

Among corporate subscriptions announced today were: Dominion Life Assurance Co., Waterloo, Ont., $3,000,000; Crown Life Insurance Co., Toronto, $2,500,000; Excelsior Life Insurance Co., Toronto, $1,700,000; Pacific Mills Ltd., Ocean Falls, B.C., $625,000.

In his statement, Mr. Spinney said that applications for bonds from the general public and payroll employees reported to National Loan headquarters up to the close of business Tuesday night totaled $292,761,750.

That figure was for the first 14 days of the 18-day campaign. It could be said "with reasonable sureness" that another $60,000,000 would be subscribed by the end of the loan. This would raise the total to $352,761,750.

There was probably about $25,000,000 not yet reported because of delays of one kind and another—making the total probably $377,761,750. About $23,000,000 additional might be expected to come in after the close of the campaign.

SETS DAILY SUM

"Thus," said Mr. Spinney, "our best total would appear to be around $400,000,000. This means that we require at least $100,000,000 more over the next four days if we are to obtain the full $500,000,000."

This was Mr. Spinney's advice to Canadians:

"Be ready to sign your application when the (loan) canvasser calls. A lot of territory has to be covered by a canvasser in a little time."

"If you feel that he may miss you, telephone your nearest Victory Loan office and the canvasser will be sent out to take your order. Or go to your bank or trust company, wherever you keep your deposits, and make your application there."

"But—and this is most important of all—do not delay. Buy bonds of the Fourth Victory Loan now. Put your intentions into immediate action."

Visitor Claims Unfair Treatment

Refused admission into Canada by local immigration authorities on arrival from Seattle aboard Ss. Iroquois May 9 last, John Brown Greenlaw, gospel preacher of British birth, protests that he was subjected to "unfair treatment."

"I was refused admission into Victoria, my old hometown for many years, on a technical piece of immigration red tape because I did not bring along with me my American citizenship papers," writes Mr. Greenlaw. "I wish to protest," he proceeded, "against this undue, unfair treatment of tourists and honorable people desiring to visit your city, as harsh, unkind procedure, which even in wartime is harmful to your tourist business."

Mr. Greenlaw, who goes by the title of "John the Baptist Greenlaw," is a British citizen by birth and resided in Victoria from 1908 to 1922.

Immigration officials here state that Mr. Greenlaw was refused re-entry into Canada because on October 13, 1931, he had been refused admission to Canada and also that he carried no documents to show that he could re-enter the United States.

Anyone who has been previously refused, it was stated, must have special permission of the Minister of Immigration before being readmitted to Canada.

B.C. Packers Abandon Plans for Fish Traps

British Columbia Packers Ltd., because of strong opposition to the proposal by salmon fishermen, has dropped its application for the establishment of fish trap sites contiguous to Sooke on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

The proposal was debated on the floor of the House of Commons at Ottawa, and Ernest Bertrand, Minister of Fisheries, stated that no assurance had been given that the granting of fish trap licences for B.C. areas would be considered or approved.

Four B.C. members of Parliament telegraphed protests to Premier Hart here.

Fear was expressed in some quarters that granting of further licences for fish traps to Canadian companies might create a situation in which traps would be restored in northwest waters of the United States.

Corvette Sinks Sub in 9 Minutes

Harold Minckler, 2363 Pacific Avenue, and Sig. Fulthorpe's parents reside at 447 Kingston Street.

OTTAWA — So rapid and vicious was the attack of H.M.C.S. Ville de Quebec on the German submarine which she sank in the Mediterranean that the whole action lasted only nine minutes, it was revealed today as full details of the victory reached Canada.

The U-boat did not have time to attempt to defend itself. The submarine was sunk off the bow of a loaded convoy, in position to attack.

Ville de Quebec blew the sub's nose 36 feet out of the water with a perfectly-placed pattern of 10 depth charges, the official report said.

As the U-boat fell flat on the surface every gun that could be brought to bear—the whole starboard side—concentrated fire on the conning tower as the Germans tried to man their guns.

Traveling at full speed, Ville de Quebec swung hard around and headed straight for the sub. "Stand by to ram!" was the order.

STRUCK CRUSHING BLOW
The corvette struck with crushing force, her bow crunching into the submarine's upper deck between the forward gun and the conning tower, smashing the gun from its mounting. As the corvette passed over the hull the surface every gun that could be brought to bear—the whole starboard side—concentrated fire on the conning tower as the Germans tried to man their guns.

The U-boat was forced under water to one side of the corvette. Moments later its stern, with rudder and propellers visible, rose sharply to an angle of 45 degrees in Ville de Quebec's wake. For seconds it hung there, then slipped under and to the bottom.

Although the convoy altered course as soon as Ville de Quebec gave a submarine warning, the slow moving merchantmen had little more than time to draw abreast and have a grandstand view of the short but intense action. The men went wild with joy.

SEAMEN CHEERED
"One ship was quite near to us," related Lieut. Raymond Hatrick, R.C.N.V.R., of Montreal, gunnery officer. "I have never seen such a demonstration of joy. The sailors were hanging from the yardarms, cheering and shouting as if we had won the war."

"It wasn't until we got into port that we knew how much they enjoyed the show. We were the toast of the town. Those boys usually see their chums take it, instead of handing it out, lots of them have been torpedoed. To see this show at 4 o'clock on a sunny afternoon in full view of all was a grand morale-builder."

"Every man did his job and did it well," said Cmdr. R. E. Coleman, R.C.N.V.R., of Montreal. "There wasn't a single hitch in the whole action. Our ship's company represents close to 40 towns and cities, scattered throughout every province of the Dominion. All Canada may be proud of them as her representatives here among the fighting men of great navies."

First man to report the submarine alert was AS. Stanley F. Miller, R.C.N., of Saskatoon. FIRE AT 900 YARDS
"We felt sure it was a submarine, and immediately ordered the convoy to make an emergency turn," said Lt. Cmdr. Coleman, who was senior escort officer. "We ran over her and dropped a heavy pattern—and from then on it was simple. Her nose came sheering up, then her gun and then the conning tower. We opened fire on her at 900 yards, swung around and ran in to ram. We kept our fire until within 50 yards, when we couldn't bring our guns to bear."

"A few yards away I gave the order 'stop engines' to lessen the strain on our ship. We rolled her well over, and she slipped out before we had run right over her."

"We ripped our bow open and it was necessary to do some emergency repair work. However, we were able to carry on at convoy speed, and came into harbor next day with the convoy."

The praise of all the ship went to the No. 1 Oerlikon gun crew, which in less than four minutes got off 200 rounds. AB. James Colebrook, R.C.N., of Verdun was perhaps contrary to regulations—chewing gum. "He would put a burst into the conning tower, casually shift his gun, select another spot on the target, slap in another burst, give his gun another workout, and get away still another burst," laughed one of his shipmates. "He was cool as a cucumber."

LOVE SURVIVOR
"The one German who survived," said Colebrook, "was lucky to get out alive."

By his side one of the ship's cooks, Ldg. Cook Donald J. Walsh, R.C.N.V.R., of Toronto, did yeoman work in smooth and rapid changing of the ammunition supply belts. "I was in the galley cooking steak and onions when action stations sounded," he said. "It didn't take long to sink the sub, but I'm afraid the steak burned before I got back. But you don't sink a sub every day."

Third man on the gun was AB. Raymond Oake, R.C.N.V.R., of Sydney, N.S. "It's a lot of waiting for a little bit of action," he commented. "But, brother, it's worth it!"

Down in the engine room the explosion of the depth charges cut the dynamo breaker and the lights went off. "Then the rattle of the Oerlikons started—the noise is pretty deadly down here!"—and the boys all figured the ship was being attacked by aircraft—again.

"So I dashed up to close the skylights," grumbled Chief ERA. Jack Mitchell, of Leamington, Ont., who was in charge of the engine room. "The lights had been fixed meantime. But imagine my surprise when I saw a submarine coming up astern of us!"

"I went down again immediately, and prepared for the ramming. We took a terrific jolt—it shook insulation from some of the pipes."

"At once I took a party forward to look after the damage to our bow. Our forward peak tank was flooded, and the chain locker forward was buckled and leaking. We shored up the bulkhead and put the pumps on the locker. We kept the pumps running constantly, and rigged a collision mat on the bow over our stern to break the force of the water."

For the rating in charge of the depth charge party, AB. John Reid, R.C.N.V.R., of Ottawa, it was "a very satisfactory moment."

"I dropped three charges myself, and we tossed over about a ton and a half of explosive. I was right aft and watched the explosions and saw her come up. She came nose first, almost straight up. I would have hated to have been in her then."

The submarine was attacked with such speed and viciousness that the enemy did not have an

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Rail stocks were supported today but the market generally followed irregular trends.

Volume was the smallest for a full session this month at about 1,300,000 shares.

The tendency among market followers to withhold commitments was attributed in part to a desire to await the outcome of the Allied strategy discussions in Washington. A factor affecting manufacturing shares was the War Production Board announcement $4,000,000,000 in war contracts would be reviewed and some canceled.

Among Canadian issues, Lake Shore lost 1/4 while Canadian Pacific and Dome Mines were unchanged. Canada 4s, in the bonds, were up 1/4.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheat prices dipped fractionally toward the end of the session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as offerings slightly outweighed light buying orders. The May future closed 1/4 cent lower at 98 1/2 cents a bushel, the July 1/4 lower at 99 1/2 to 99 3/4, the October 1/4 lower at $1.00, and the December unchanged at $1.01.

Local interests and mills were credited with the bulk of the buying. Outside interest was almost completely lacking.

Export business in Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom was estimated at 500,000 bushels.

Only odd cars of low grade cash wheat changed hands, but round lots of high-grade northern wheat sold on a cost, insurance and freight basis to shippers. More than 500,000 bushels of cash oats sold for rail shipment to the United States.

A fair mixed trade in barley and rye was reported in the coarse grain pit with American houses and locals the chief buyers. Oats failed to open.

Grain inspections at Winnipeg yesterday totaled 352 cars, compared with 1,370 last year. Country marketings amounted to 638,000 bushels, against 241,000 a year ago.

War Freighters Are Faster Now

BY ALAN RANDAL
LONDON (CP)—Britain has been changing the type of merchantman built in British yards to meet the changing conditions of war. The vessels are faster now.

The aim, of course, is to advance that much farther along the way to defeating the U-boat menace. The speed of the new vessels, built with finely-designed hulls and more powerful engines, remains secret.

Lord Leathers, Transport Minister, revealed directly that in every three ships produced in British shipyards now is the fast type. The proportion should soon be two in every four and the vessels will be used for special war jobs, particularly on the more hazardous routes.

At sea, three and a half years of unrestricted U-boat attacks and air raids have resulted in a different position of guns fitted to merchant ships, compared to the old Geneva restriction which forbids merchant ships being offensively armed.

Under the old regulations the placing of a gun forward made the ship a warship and for the best part of the war to date merchant ships have been at sea with their larger armament mounted aft. Now anti-submarine guns have been mounted forward.

At the same time the improvement in life-saving devices has resulted in five out of six shipwrecked sailors being saved.

"This," said a Ministry of War Transport official, "means that once a man gets away from a sinking ship he is well on the way to safety."

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are the parents of a boy of 16 and we don't know what to do about him because he prefers to wear girls' clothing to boys. At home he wears dresses and delights in using lip stick and rouge, and out in public he passes for a pretty girl. What should we do about this?

PERPLEXED

FATHER AND MOTHER.

Answer: I should think you had better consult some good psychiatrist, as it seems abnormal for a boy to want to be a girl. But, as a matter of fact, why is it any more abnormal for a boy to want to wear dresses than it is for a girl to want to wear breeches?

Yet the streets are full of girls stopping around in slacks and pants and trying as much as they can to make imitation men of themselves. And nobody has the kindness to take them to a clinic for mental observation. And they haven't even the justification that the boy has in wearing pretty clothes that enhance their good looks instead of taking away from them.

Dear Miss Dix: Several of my friends and I are wondering if it is appropriate for a girl to go with her fiancé to the jeweler to pick out her engagement ring? If not, what arrangements should be made so that the girl is not disappointed in the choice?

TWO ENGAGED GIRLS.

Answer: Emily Post says it is the proper thing to do, so that's that. In addition, it has the sanction of common sense, for it keeps many a girl from having the great moment in her life spoiled by having her well-meaning but blundering sweetheart give her one kind of an engagement ring when she had set her heart upon another.

From the time a girl begins to take an interest in boys she dreams about her engagement ring. It is the one most sacred article she ever possesses, and so it is vitally important that it should be her heart's desire instead of something she has to pretend to like, and doesn't, as long as she lives.

So, boys, always take Sweetums with you when you go to pick out her diamond whether it is a pinpoint or one the size of a locomotive headlight.

Visitors at Homes For Service Men

Men from every part of Canada and the old world, men who have held every kind of civilian job, are now passing through Victoria with the army, navy, air force or merchant marine, and their first stop-over when they come to town is one of the city's service-men hostels.

Then they can trade home-town news and experiences, obtain accommodation and meals and fit into a home-away-from-home atmosphere. Among the navy men at Prince Robert House Tuesday were:

AB. Carmen Neely, R.C.N.V.R.: He's a sea-going sailor from Kingston, Nova Scotia, who has seen service on both destroyers and corvettes and is all ready for duty on a frigate.

"Before the war I served at sea on freighters, and since then have been on convoy duty in the east. I've never been in any very bad scrap," he said. This is seaman Neely's first visit to Victoria.

Dixie Thomas, R.C.N.V.R.: Working in a factory did not offer much field for adventure, so youthful red-headed Dixie Thomas, who hails from Dixie, Georgia, packed his grip and headed for Winnipeg to join the navy. He has been in the navy eight months, but has not yet been posted to sea duty.

Stoker W. J. Graf, R.C.N.V.R.: "I'm from Kitchener, Ontario, and before enlisting I had worked on grain carriers on the Great Lakes." Stoker Graf is now stationed at H.M.C.S. Naden 1 and is hoping for duty in the east.

OD. Nate Poons, R.C.N.V.R.: Winnipeg is seaman Poons' home town, but he has kind words for the hospitality offered service men in Victoria. At present he is circulation manager of the west coast navy paper Gangway and finds the work a change from his civilian job. He was a collector for the C.P.R.

Joiner Fred Jones, R.C.N.V.R.: He was a building contractor in Cranbrook before enlisting, but always "had a desire to go to sea." As yet, however, he has not been posted to sea duty.

LONDON (CP)—Girls are taking a hand in Britain's wartime coal mining. They are 4,000 land girls, members of the Women's Land Army Timber Corps, who have set a target of 200,000 tons more pit props than they cut last year.

Canaries Play Part in Saving Lives of Miners

Canaries were first tamed about 430 years ago. Since then they have been sold as cage birds all over Europe, also on other continents. People who like to have them around the house have found them interesting pets.

Canaries have played a part in saving the lives of miners. Certain dangerous gases in coal mines are hard, if not impossible, to smell. Men may go through tunnels without noticing anything wrong. Then they may fall to the ground, having breathed a poisonous gas, and may die before help can come.

To save themselves from such a fate, many miners—especially in Great Britain—take canaries into coal mines. After breathing a dangerous gas, a canary may fall from its perch before the man carrying the cage is injured.

That is a warning which the miners are quick to follow. They know that they will die if they do not take care. The canary falls in a kind of swoon, but it usually does not die if the men hurry to a point where they are safe from the gas. At that point they usually can bring the bird back to health by supplying it with oxygen.

The miners become very fond of their canaries, and treat them kindly. Rescue squads which go into tunnels to try to save trapped miners are happy to have these little birds to warn them of danger along the way. If they have safety helmets or gas masks, they can put them on and finish their work of rescue.

On this continent we have birds known as "wild canaries." Although they are not the same as the wild canaries of the Canary Islands, some of them are relatives of those birds.

Wild canaries of the goldfinch type are related to the cage birds, being in the finch family.

The summer coat of the male goldfinch is largely of bright yellow color. He has dark feathers on his head, wings and tail.

People sometimes call yellow warblers "wild canaries." This is an error, since the yellow warbler is not a member of the finch family. Their coats are largely yellow, but they have sharp, slender bills, somewhat different from canary bills.

Canada Seeking No Trade Dicker In Gift to Allies

OTTAWA (CP)—The government seeks neither commercial advantages nor repayments for the mutual aid given to the United Nations, Finance Minister Isley said in the House of Commons, Tuesday night, as the $1,000,000 Mutual Aid Bill was criticized from two points of view.

The bill came up this afternoon for further consideration in committee of the whole.

"We do not regard the contribution we are going to make under this bill as sales to Great Britain. We regard it as our contribution to the common cause," said the minister.

J. G. Diefenbaker, Prog. Con., Lake Centre, Sask., thought the powers contained in the bill might give the ministers in charge of its operation power to direct the commercial policy of Canada without reference to Parliament, and to make treaties.

He objected particularly to the provision which says that "no war supplies shall be made available to any of the United Nations except upon terms and conditions approved by the Governor-in-Council."

"Certainly, I did not have any intention of entering into trade agreements under this clause," said Mr. Isley.

The sum of the gift was simply placed to the credit of Great Britain, but British purchases in Canada ran to a total of $1,440,000.

He estimated $689,000,000 of the gift went in purchase of munitions, and $311,000,000 in purchase of foodstuffs and raw materials.

For purposes of the allocation, he assumed that all munitions purchases came out of the gift, and all services, including freight, air training, interest, capital expenditures, came from other funds.

T. L. Church, Prog. Con., Toronto Broadview, said the more the gift was examined the more it became evident that a large part of it was not a gift to Britain at all. Britain had paid Canada prior to the gift nearly the value of all the munitions and food received.

"I fail to see it was much of a gift, in view of the protection given this country (Britain)," said Mr. Church.

Britain had $3,000,000,000 invested in Argentina, and part of that sum might be turned over to Canada and assist her in obtaining a trade foothold in South America after the war.

Pensions Minister Mackenzie said the statement evidently referred not to International Nickel but another company.

"Well, it is Falconbridge Nickel, which is associated with International Nickel," said Mr. Coldwell.

He added that the statement of the nickel company president was tantamount to saying the refinery in Norway was being operated with Canadian approval in the midst of a war threatening civilization.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Ground action in Burma was confined to patrol activity by both British and Japanese forces today, an Allied communiqué said.

Hurricane fighters of the R.A.F. attacked an enemy transport on the Mayu River Tuesday, it said, and another formation of fighters machine-gunned two concentrations of supply sampans on the Irrawaddy between Chauk and Yennangyang. All 50 craft attacked were either damaged or destroyed.

Hilker Announces Year's Attractions

Salvatore Baccaloni, the Metropolitan Opera's renowned basso buffo, will appear as a headline event of Hilker Attractions Greater Artists' Series for the 1943-44 season. The famed singing clown will present his talented opera company of 25 players in the "Barber of Seville," complete with scenery, costumes and properties, as it is done on the stages of the major opera houses.

The great master of the violin, Yehudi Menuhin, will be heard, in response to a demand vote on the 1943 audience ballot.

The renowned Ballet Theatre will present new productions when they appear here next spring. The famous company will be complete with all its stars, including Massine, Baronova, Markova, Dolin, Egloffsky, Chase and many others.

The performance will include a new and interesting repertoire, including productions currently being prepared for the fall opening in New York.

The fine Welsh baritone voice of Thomas L. Thomas, the young singer who has attracted so much interest in the eastern United States and Canada, and over the air, will be an interesting feature next season. His schedule of 127 performances, 57 of which were national broadcasts, is a record unequalled in the music world today.

Arthur Rubinstein, the great Polish pianist, comes here at the height of his career. Rated as the world's most popular pianist, he played to a record audience of 21,500 in the Hollywood Bowl last September.

The outstanding voice of Marjorie Lawrence will also be heard. Her recent appearances with the Metropolitan Opera, and with the New York Philharmonic on national radio broadcasts, have attracted international interest.

There has been a steadily increasing demand for an opportunity to hear the Metropolitan's sensational new tenor, Jan

Peerce, and since the announcement that he will appear next season, interest has been high among music lovers.

The outstanding attractions listed above will comprise Hilker Attractions Greater Artists' Series for next season.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

A Woman's Letter About Her Home

Not long ago, Johns-Manville received a letter. It was written about the "Home" and we think you'll like it: "Home—It's a place of contentment and cheer, sometimes laughter, sometimes just silence. An ash tray and a pipe, an easy chair and footstool, too. The darning basket, a clock that strikes the hours, and flowers on the windowsill. The stockings hanging in a row at Christmas. All these little, simple, homey things mean HOME to me. Today, if you too, love home and all it means, you'll sense a deeper message in that letter. Something that says, 'This is what we are fighting for—this is why we must buy Victory Bonds, and buy them now!'

Every dollar invested in Victory Bonds is a weapon you can throw into the fight for your home, your family, your security. Buy your Victory Bonds now—the time is getting short!"

We Want Freedom From WANT...FEAR...and FORCE

THERE'S nothing old-fashioned about this war. The weapons are all new-fashioned. The methods of attack and defence are new-fashioned. And so are our war aims. Nations used to be content with victory. But, this time, we shall not be satisfied with victory. We shall not be content with peace. We shall be satisfied only with freedom... freedom from Want, Fear and Force... freedom from every kind of oppression.

THIS is a people's war. This is a war of the world's free peoples against aggression and evil dictatorship which seek to force the will of the few on the lives of the many. The free peoples of the world want security and the right to think and act and plan their own lives in their own way. They are tired of being pushed around. They want to be left alone—to live in peace with their neighbours. They want to regain those things which free people everywhere hold dear.

IN Canada we are fighting and working and saving to secure for ourselves and others a world that will be really free. Our future security is everybody's business. Security has to be paid for. It must come out of our own pockets.

You can protect your future and the future of your loved ones, by putting every cent you can save into the 4th Victory Loan.
